SEC. 3011. NEED FOR LATIN AMERICAN REGIONAL ANTI-NARCOTICS FORCE.

(a) Sense of Congress.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the operations of international illegal drug smuggling organizations pose a direct threat to the national security of the member nations of the Organization of American States;

(2) illegal international drug smuggling organizations have grown so large and powerful that they threaten to overwhelm small nations standing alone against them;

(3) to preserve the national sovereignty, protect the public health, and maintain domestic law and order within their borders, member nations of the Organization of American States should coordinate their efforts to fight the illegal drug trade;

(4) recent events in drug source and transit countries in the Western Hemisphere make clear the requirement for international agreement on the formation of a multinational strike force intended to conduct operations against these illegal drug smuggling organizations;

(5) the United States should make every effort to initiate diplomatic discussions through the Organization of American States aimed at achieving agreement to establish and operate a Latin American anti-narcotics force; and

(6) sensitive to the legitimate concerns of other member nations of the Organization of American States, the United States stands ready to provide equipment, training, and financial resources to support the establishment and operation of such an anti-narcotics force, but believes that the personnel for such a force should be provided by those nations facing the most serious threat from drug trafficking organizations.

(b) Purposes.—The purposes of this subtitle are—

(1) to authorize the appropriation of $10,000,000 for the United States share of the expenses of a Latin American regional anti-narcotics force;

(2) to encourage agreement within the Organization of American States on the establishment of Latin American regional anti-narcotics force;

(3) to encourage the establishment, under appropriate multilateral auspices, of regional anti-narcotic forces in other regions of the world; and

(4) to encourage the creation of a comprehensive, integrated, multinational plan whose objective would be the substantial reduction or elimination of the international cocaine trade.

(a) United States Initiative.—The President shall direct the United States representative to the Organization of American States to seek the views of other member nations of the Organization on the feasibility of establishing a Latin American regional anti-narcotics force.

(b) Regional Summit Conference.—If there is a positive response within the Organization of American States to the United States initiative described in subsection (a), the President shall call for a meeting of heads of government of member nations of the Organization to conclude an agreement providing for the establishment of a regional anti-narcotics force, with appropriate contributions of personnel, training, equipment and financial resources for this force to be made by members of the Organization.

SEC. 3013. UNITED STATES ASSISTANCE FOR LATIN AMERICAN REGIONAL ANTI-NARCOTICS FORCE.

(a) DOD Assistance for Anti-Narcotics Force.—If an agreement is reached within the Organization of American States providing for the establishment of a regional anti-narcotics force, the President shall direct the Secretary of Defense to provide appropriate assistance for that force.

(2) should contribute funds or other resources to such a center; and

(3) should seek such contributions from other countries for such a center.

SEC. 3015. UNITED STATES EFFORT TO ESTABLISH OTHER REGIONAL ANTI-NARCOTIC FORCES.

The Congress urges the President to seek the establishment, in each of the relevant regions of the world, of a multilateral regional anti-narcotics force similar to the Latin America regional anti-narcotics force contemplated by this subtitle.

SEC. 3016. NEED FOR AN INTEGRATED REGIONAL PLAN TO FIGHT THE INTERNATIONAL COCAINE TRADE.

(a) Consultations Concerning Creation of an Integrated Plan.—The Secretary of State shall consult with—

(1) the heads of appropriate agencies and departments of the United States Government,

(2) the governments of those countries in the Western Hemisphere that cultivate, process, or traffick in cocaine, and

(3) the governments of other cocaine consuming countries,

about the feasibility of creating a comprehensive, integrated, multinational plan whose objective would be the substantial reduction or elimination of the international cocaine trade.

(b) Report on the Integrated Plan.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall report to the Congress on—

(1) the feasibility of creating a comprehensive, integrated, multinational plan whose objective would be the substantial reduction or elimination of the international cocaine trade;

(2) the measures in such areas as eradication, interdiction, crop substitution, economic development, extradition, money-laundering, precursor chemical control, and related fields, that would be required to achieve such an objective;

(3) the material resources, funding, and technological assistance each producer and transit country would require in order to achieve such an objective; and

(1) by redesigning subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (d) the following:

"Death Penalty

"(e) in addition to the other penalties set forth in this section any person who, during the commission of, in furtherance of, or while attempting to avoid apprehension, prosecution or service of a prison sentence for, a felony violation of this title or title III, intentionally kills any law enforcement officer or any other person, shall be sentenced to any term of imprisonment, which shall not be less than 20 years, and which may be up to life imprisonment, or may be sentenced to death.".

(b) PROCEDURE APPLICABLE WITH RESPECT TO THE DEATH PENALTY.—Section 408 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 848) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"Hearing Required with Respect to the Death Penalty

"(g) A person shall be subjected to the penalty of death for any offense under this section only if a hearing is held under this section.

"Notice by the Government in Death Penalty Cases

"(h)(1) Whenever the Government intends to seek the death penalty for an offense under this section for which one of the sentences provided is death, the attorney for the Government, a reasonable time before trial or acceptance by the court of a plea of guilty, shall sign and file with the court, and serve upon the defendant, a notice—

"(A) that the Government in the event of conviction will seek the sentence of death; and

"(B) setting forth the aggravating factors enumerated in subsection (n) and any other aggravating factors which the Government will seek to prove as the basis for the death penalty.

"(2) The court may permit the attorney for the Government to amend this notice for good cause shown.

"Hearing Before Court or Jury

"(i)(1) When the attorney for the Government has filed a notice as required under subsection (h) and the defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), the judge who presided at the trial or before whom the guilty plea was entered, or any other judge if the judge who presided at the trial or before whom the guilty plea was entered is unavailable, shall conduct a separate sentencing hearing to determine the punishment to be imposed. The hearing shall be conducted—

"(A) before the jury which determined the defendant's guilt;

"(B) before a jury impaneled for the purpose of the hearing if—

"(i) the defendant was convicted upon a plea of guilty;

"(ii) the defendant was convicted after a trial before the court sitting without a jury;

"(iii) the jury which determined the defendant's guilt has been discharged for good cause; or

"(iv) after initial imposition of a sentence under this section, redetermination of the sentence under this section is necessary; or

"(C) before the court alone, upon the motion of the defendant and with the approval of the Government.

"(2) A jury impaneled under paragraph (1)(B) shall consist of 12 members, unless, at any time before the conclusion of the hearing, the parties stipulate with the approval of the court that it shall consist of any number less than 12.

"Proof of Aggravating and Mitigating Factors

"(j) Notwithstanding rule 32(c) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, when a defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), no presentence report shall be prepared. In the sentencing hearing, information may be presented as to any matter relevant to the sentence and shall include matters relating to any of the aggravating or mitigating factors set forth in subsections (m) and (n), or any other mitigating factor. Where information is presented relating to any of the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n), information may be presented relating to any other aggravating factor. Information presented may include the trial transcript and exhibits if the hearing is held before a jury or judge not present during the trial. Any other information relevant to such mitigating or aggravating factors may be presented by either the Government or the defendant, regardless of its admissibility under the rules governing admission of evidence at criminal trials, except that information may be excluded if its probative value is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice, confusion of the issues, or misleading the jury. The Government and the defendant shall be permitted to rebut any information received at the hearing and shall be given fair opportunity to present argument as to the adequacy of the information to establish the existence of any of the aggravating or mitigating factors and as to appropriateness in that case of imposing a sentence of death. The Government shall open the argument. The defendant shall be permitted to reply. The Government shall then be permitted to reply in rebuttal. The burden of establishing the existence of any aggravating factor is on the Government, and is not satisfied unless established beyond a reasonable doubt. The burden of establishing the existence of any mitigating factor is on the defendant, and is not satisfied unless established by a preponderance of the evidence.

"Return of Findings

"(k) The jury, or if there is no jury, the court, shall consider all the information received during the hearing. It shall return special findings identifying any aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n), found to exist. If one of the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n)(1) and another of the aggravating factors set forth in paragraphs (2) through (12) of subsection (n) is found to exist, a special finding identifying any other aggravating factor may be returned. A finding with respect to a mitigating factor may be made by one or more of the members of the jury, and any member of the jury who finds the existence of a mitigating factor may consider such a factor established for purposes of this subsection, regardless of the number of jurors who concur that the factor has been established. A finding with respect to any aggravating factor must be unanimous. If an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) is not found to exist or an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) is found to exist but no other aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n) is found to exist, the court shall impose a sentence, other than death, authorized by law. If an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) and one or more of the other aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n) are found to exist, the jury, or if there is no jury, the court, shall then consider whether the aggravating factors found to exist sufficiently outweigh any mitigating factor or factors found to exist, or in the absence of mitigating factors, whether the aggravating factors are themselves sufficient to justify a sentence of death. Based upon this consideration, the jury by unanimous vote, or if there is no jury, the court, shall return a finding as to whether a sentence of death is justified. The jury or the court, regardless of its findings with respect to aggravating and mitigating factors, is never required to impose a death sentence and the jury shall be so instructed.

"Imposition of Sentence

"(l) Upon a finding that a sentence of death is justified, the court shall sentence the defendant to death. Otherwise the court shall impose a sentence, other than death, authorized by law. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who is under 18 years of age at the time the crime was committed. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who, as a result of mental disability—

"(1) cannot understand the nature of the pending proceedings, what such person was tried for, the reason for the punishment, or the nature of the punishment; or

"(2) lacks the capacity to recognize or understand facts which would make the punishment unjust or unlawful, or lacks the ability to convey such information to counsel or to the court.

"Mitigating Factors

"(m) In determining whether a sentence of death is to be imposed on a defendant, the following mitigating factors shall be considered but are not exclusive:

"(1) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of the defendant's conduct or to conform conduct to the requirements of law was significantly impaired, but not so impaired as to constitute a defense to the charge.

"(2) The defendant was under unusual and substantial duress, although not such duress as constitutes a defense to the charge.

"(3) The defendant is punishable as a principal (as defined in section 2(a) of title 18 of the United States Code) in the offense, which was committed by another, but the defendant's participation was relatively minor, although not so minor as to constitute a defense to the charge.

"(4) The defendant could not reasonably have foreseen that the defendant's conduct in the course of the commission of murder, or other offense resulting in death for which the defendant was convicted, would cause, or would create a grave risk of causing, death to any person.

"(5) The defendant was youthful, although not under the age of 18.

"(6) The defendant did not have a significant prior criminal record.

"(7) The defendant committed the offense under severe mental or emotional disturbance.

"(8) Another defendant or defendants, equally culpable in the crime, will not be punished by death.

"(9) Other defendants in other cases who were equally culpable have not been sentenced to death.

"(10) The victim consented to the criminal conduct that resulted in the victim's death.

"(11) That other factors in the defendant's background or character mitigate against imposition of the death sentence.

"Aggravating Factors for Homicide

"(n) If the defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), the following aggravating factors shall be considered but are not exclusive:

"(1) The defendant—

"(A) intentionally killed the victim;

"(B) intentionally inflicted serious bodily injury which resulted in the death of the victim;

"(C) intentionally engaged in conduct intending that the victim be killed or that lethal force be employed against the victim, which resulted in the death of the victim.

"(D) intentionally engaged in conduct which—

"(i) the defendant knew would create a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in the offense; and

"(ii) resulted in the death of the victim.

"(2) The defendant has been convicted of another Federal offense, or a State offense resulting in the death of a person, for which a sentence of life imprisonment or a sentence of death was authorized by statute.

"(3) The defendant has previously been convicted of two or more State of Federal offenses punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year, committed on different occasions, involving the infliction of, or attempted infliction of, serious bodily injury upon another person.

"(4) The defendant has previously been convicted of two or more State or Federal offense punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year, committed on different occasions, involving the distribution of a controlled substance.

"(5) In the commission of the offense or in escaping apprehension for a violation of subsection (e), the defendant knowingly created a grave risk of death to one or more persons in addition to the victims of the offense.

"(6) The defendant procured the commission of the offense by payment, or promise of payment, of anything of pecuniary value.

"(7) The defendant committed the offense as consideration for the receipt, or in the expectation of the receipt, of anything of pecuniary value.

"(8) The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation.

"(9) The victim was particularly vulnerable due to old age, youth, or infirmity.

"(10) The defendant had previously been convicted of violating this title or title III for which a sentence of five or more years may be imposed or was engaged in a continuing criminal enterprise.

"(11) The violation of this title in relation to which the conduct described in subsection (e) occurred was a violation of section 405.

"(12) The defendant committed the offense in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner.

"Right of the Defendant to Justice Without Discrimination

"(o)(1) In any hearing held before a jury under this section, the court shall instruct the jury that in its consideration of whether the sentence of death is justified it shall not consider the race, color, national origin, or sex of the defendant or the victim, and that the jury is not to recommend a sentence of death unless it has concluded that it would recommend a sentence of death for the crime in question no matter what race the defendant, or the victim, may be. The jury shall return to the court a certificate signed by each juror that consideration of race, color, national origin, creed, or sex of the defendant or the victim was not involved in reaching his or her individual decision, and that the individual juror would have made the same recommendation regarding a sentence for the crime in question no matter what race the defendant, or the victim, may be.

"(2) Not later than one year from the date of enactment of the Anti-Drug Abuse Amendments Act of 1988, the Comptroller General shall conduct a study of the various procedures used by the several States for determining whether or not to impose the death penalty in particular cases, and shall report to the Congress on whether or not any or all of the various procedures create a significant risk that the race of a defendant, or the race of a victim against whom a crime was committed, influence the likelihood that defendants in those States will be sentenced to death. In conducting the study required by this paragraph, the General Accounting Office shall—

"(A) use ordinary methods of statistical analysis, including methods comparable to those ruled admissible by the courts in race discrimination cases under title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964;

"(B) study only crimes occurring after January 1, 1986; and

"(C) determine what, if any, other factors, including any relation between any aggravating or mitigating factors and the race of the victim or the defendant, may account for any evidence that the race of the defendant, or the race of the victim, influences the likelihood that defendants will be sentenced to death. In addition, the General Accounting Office shall examine separately and include in the report, death penalty cases involving crimes similar to those covered under this section.

"Sentencing in Capital Cases in Which Death Penalty Is Not Sought or Imposed

"(p) If a person is convicted for an offense under subsection (e) and the court does not impose the penalty of death, the court may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

"Counsel for Financially Unable Defendants

"(q)(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, in every criminal action in which a defendant is charged with a crime which may be punishable by death, a defendant who is or becomes financially unable to obtain adequate representation or investigative, expert or other reasonably necessary services at any time either—

(A) before judgment; or

Upon a finding that timely procurement of such services could not practicably await prior authorization, the court may authorize the provision of and payment for such services nunc pro tunc.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Federal Aviation Administration Drug Enforcement Assistance Act of 1988".

SEC. 8002. FINDINGS AND POLICY.

(a) Findings.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Illegal drug consumption and the trafficking in illegal drugs is a major problem in the United States.

(2) The smuggling of drugs into the United States through the use of general aviation aircraft is a major contributing factor in the illegal drug crisis facing our Nation.

(3) The Federal Government has a significant role in combatting such drug crisis.

(4) The Federal Aviation Administration has played an important role in assisting law enforcement agencies in certain aspects of drug interdiction and enforcement activities.

(5) The current systems of registering aircraft, certificating pilots, and processing major aircraft repair and alteration forms and enforcement of the requirements associated with such systems need to be improved in order to more effectively contribute to drug interdiction and enforcement efforts.

(6) Improving such systems and enforcement of such requirements will require providing the Federal Aviation Administration with additional funding and other resources.

(7) Improved systems of registering aircraft, certificating pilots, and processing major aircraft repair and alteration forms and increased enforcement of requirements associated with such systems will benefit all users of such systems (including law enforcement officials) and the general public.

(b) Policy.—Section 103 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. App. 1303) is amended by redesignating paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) (and any references thereto) as paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5), respectively, by striking out the semicolons at the end of each of paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) (as so redesignated) and inserting in lieu thereof a period, and by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

Such modifications may include a system of titling aircraft or of registering all aircraft whether or not operated, shall assure positive, verifiable, and timely identification of the true owner, and shall address, at a minimum, each of the following deficiencies in and abuses of the existing system:

"(1) The registration of aircraft to fictitious persons.

"(2) The use of false or nonexistent addresses by persons registering aircraft.

"(5) The submission of names of individuals on applications for registration of aircraft which are not identifiable.

"(6) The ability to make frequent legal changes in the registration markings which are assigned to aircraft.

"(7) The use of false registration markings on aircraft.

"(8) The illegal use of 'reserved' registration markings on aircraft.

"(9) The large number of aircraft which are classified as being in 'self-reported status'.

"(10) The lack of a system to assure timely and adequate notice of the transfer of ownership of aircraft.

"(11) The practice of allowing temporary operation and navigation of aircraft without issuance of a certificate of registration under this section.".

TITLE XI—TRANSPORTATION INDUSTRY ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES TESTING PROGRAM

SEC. 11001. TRANSPORTATION INDUSTRY ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES TESTING PROGRAM.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) alcohol and drug abuse poses significant dangers to the safety and welfare of the Nation;

(4) the use of alcohol and illegal drugs has been demonstrated to affect significantly the performance of individuals, and has been proven to have been a critical factor in transportation accidents;

(5) the testing of uniformed personnel of the armed forces has shown that the most effective deterrent to abuse of alcohol and use of illegal drugs is increased testing, including random testing;

(6) adequate safeguards can be implemented to ensure that testing for abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs is performed in a manner which protects an individual's right of privacy, ensures that no individual is harassed by being treated differently from other individuals, and ensures that no individual's reputation or career development is unduly threatened or harmed; and

(7) rehabilitation is a critical component of any testing program for abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs, and should be made available to individuals, as appropriate.

"PROGRAM FOR REHABILITATION

"(c)(1) Each air carrier and foreign air carrier shall establish and maintain a rehabilitation program which at a minimum provides for the identification and opportunity for treatment of employees referred to in subsection (b) of this section in need of assistance in resolving problems with the use, without lawful authorization, of alcohol or controlled substances. Each air carrier and foreign air carrier is encouraged to make such program available to all of its employees other than employees referred to in subsection (b) of this section. SEC. 12002. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) the problem of illegal drug activity and drug abuse falls across the entire spectrum of Federal activities, both domestically and internationally;

(2) any effective solution to the drug problem of the Nation must involve a comprehensive approach from all levels of government, combining reduction of the demand for drugs through education, research and treatment with rigorous law enforcement and supply reduction initiatives;

(3) an effective solution to the drug problem of the Nation is severely hampered by the large number of Federal agencies with overlapping jurisdiction and fragmented authority which does not encourage effective strategic planning, coordination and cooperation without centralized leadership;

(4) the magnitude and scope of the problem requires a Director of National Drug Control Policy with the responsibility for the coordination and direction of all Federal efforts by the numerous agencies; and

SEC. 12051. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Justice Department Organized Crime and Drug Enforcement Enhancement Act of 1988".

SEC. 12052. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) organized criminal activity contributes significantly to the importation, distribution, and sale of illegal and dangerous drugs;

(2) trends in drug trafficking patterns necessitate a response that gives appropriate weight to—

(A) the prosecution of drug-related crimes; and

(B) the forfeiture and seizure of assets and other civil remedies used to strike at the inherent strength of the drug networks and organized crime groups;

(3) law enforcement components of the Department of Justice should give high priority to the enforcement of civil sanctions against drug networks and organized crime groups; and

(4) the structure of the Department of Justice Criminal Division needs to be reviewed in order to determine the most effective structure to address such drug-related problems.

SEC. 12053. CIVIL ENFORCEMENT REPORT.

(a) Report.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this title, the Director of National Drug Control Policy (the Director) in consultation with the Attorney General, shall report to the Congress on the necessity to establish a new division or make other organizational changes within the Department of Justice in order to promote better civil and criminal law enforcement. In preparing such report, the Director shall consider restructuring and consolidating one or more of the following divisions and programs—

(1) the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Criminal Division and all subordinate strike forces therein;

(2) the Narcotic and Dangerous Drug Section of the Criminal Division;

(3) the Asset Forfeiture Office of the Criminal Division; and

(4) the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program;

(b) LEGISLATIVE RECOMMENDATIONS.—The report submitted under subsection (a) shall include appropriate legislative recommendations for the Congress.

SEC. 12054. CIVIL ENFORCEMENT ENHANCEMENT.

(a) DUTY OF ATTORNEY GENERAL.—The Attorney General shall insure that each component of the Department of Justice having criminal law enforcement responsibilities with respect to the prosecution of organized crime and controlled substances violations, including each United States Attorney's Office, attaches a high priority to the enforcement of civil statutes creating ancillary sanctions and remedies for such violations, such as civil penalties and actions, forfeitures, injunctions and restraining orders, and collection of fines.

(b) DUTY OF ASSOCIATE ATTORNEY GENERAL.—The Associate Attorney General shall be responsible for implementing the policy set forth in this subsection.

(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—(1) There are authorized to be appropriated $2,175,000 for salaries and expenses to the Department of Justice General Legal Activities Account and $2,175,000 for salaries and expenses for United States Attorneys for fiscal year 1989.

(2) Any appropriation of funds authorized under paragraph (1) shall be—

(A) in addition to any appropriations requested by the President in the 1989 fiscal year budget submitted by the President to the Congress on February 18, 1988, or provided in regular appropriations Acts or continuing resolutions for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1989; and

(B) used to increase the number of field attorneys and related support staff over such personnel levels employed at the Department of Justice on September 30, 1988.

SEC. 12055. COORDINATION AND ENHANCEMENT OF FIELD ACTIVITIES.

(b) TASK FORCE AGENTS.—To the greatest extent feasible, those agents assigned to the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force program shall be dedicated exclusively to and located with the Task Forces so that the Task Force personnel may develop increased expertise and function as a working unit. Those agents assigned to the Task Forces from the various participating agencies shall be given credit for the work of the Task Force, regardless of the statutory authority used to prosecute Task Force cases or the criminal or civil nature of the investigation.

(c) EXPENSES OF TASK FORCES.—(1) Beginning in fiscal year 1990, the Attorney General in his budget shall submit a separate appropriations request for expenses relating to all Federal agencies participating in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Forces. Such appropriations shall be made to the Department of Justice's Interagency Law Enforcement Appropriation Account for the Attorney General to make reimbursements to the involved agencies as necessary.

(2) The appropriations and reimbursements procedure described under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) provide for the flexibility of the Task Forces which is vital to success;

TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS ACT

KASTEN AMENDMENT NO. 3367

(Ordered to lie on the table.)

Mr. KASTEN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill (S. 2238) to make technical corrections relating to the Tax Reform Act of 1986, and for other purposes; as follows:

In section 795 of the bill, as proposed to be added by the amendment, strike subsection (e) and insert:

(e) REPEAL OF SUSPENSE ACCOUNT FOR FARM CORPORATIONS WITH GROSS RECEIPTS IN EXCESS OF $100,000,000.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 447(i) of the 1986 Code is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(7) CORPORATION TO WHICH SUBSECTION APPLIES.—This subsection applies to any family corporation if, for each prior taxable year beginning after December 31, 1985, such corporation (or any predecessor corporation) did not have gross receipts exceeding $100,000,000. For purposes of the preceding sentence, all corporations which are members of the same controlled groups of corporations (within the meaning of section 1563(a)) shall be treated as 1 corporation and the rules of subsection (d)(2)(B) shall apply."

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Paragraph (1) of section 447(i) of such Code is amended by inserting "to which this subsection applies" after "family corporation".

(f) EFFECTIVE DATES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsection (c) or (d) or this subsection, the amendments made by this section shall take effect as if included in the amendments made by section 803 of the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

(2) SUBSECTION (e).—The amendment made by subsection (e) shall take effect as if included in the amendments made by section 10205 of the Revenue Act of 1987.

● Mr. KASTEN. Mr. President, the Senate Finance Committee's amendment to the Technical Corrections Act of 1988 repeals the so-called heifer tax. The committee's action reflects a consensus in the Congress that the 1986 Tax Reform Act's capitalization requirement is a truly burdensome and unfair tax on America's livestock farmers—and that it should be repealed.

However, the effective date of this provision would apply only to costs incurred after December 31, 1988. For tax year 1988, family farmers will continue to be liable for the additional tax and enormous recordkeeping requirements imposed by a provision of the Tax Code that no one disagrees should be repealed. Moreover, retroactive repeal of the heifer tax will get the Internal Revenue Service out of the absurd position of having to enforce compliance with tax law that was effective for only 2 years.

I intend to offer an amendment to the Senate Finance Committee's amendment to the Technical Corrections Act of 1988 that would repeal the heifer tax retroactive to December 31, 1986. The revenue loss would be offset by repealing a provision in the Tax Code that permits large farming corporations to avoid their obligation to pay their taxes on a current basis. The 1987 reconciliation bill correctly required large farming corporations to switch from cash to accrual account. However, these corporations were allowed to suspend their obligation to pay hundreds of millions of dollars in taxes on previously earned income. My amendment would repeal the suspense account for farm corporations with annual receipts in excess of $100 million and require full payment of the deferred taxes over the next 10 years.

My amendment would return simplicity and credibility to the tax treatment of livestock production and it will also restore tax equity and fairness between small- to medium-sized family farms and large farming corporations.●

SEC. 1002. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) the problem of illegal drug activity and drug abuse falls across the entire spectrum

of Federal activities, both domestically and internationally;

(2) any effective solution to the drug problem of the Nation must involve a comprehensive approach from all levels of government, combining reduction of the demand for drugs through education, research and treatment with rigorous law enforcement and supply reduction initiatives;

(3) an effective solution to the drug problem of the Nation is severely hampered by the large number of Federal agencies with overlapping jurisdiction and fragmented authority which does not encourage effective strategic planning, coordination and cooperation without centralized leadership;

(4) the magnitude and scope of the problem requires a Director of National Drug Control Policy with the responsibility for the coordination and direction of all Federal efforts by the numerous agencies; and

(5) such a director must have sufficient authority and responsibility to lead Federal agencies in making management, policy, and budgetary decisions with respect to all Federal agencies so that a unified and efficient effort can be made to substantially reduce the illegal drug problem.

(A) the prosecution of drug-related crimes; and

(B) the forfeiture and seizure of assets and other civil remedies used to strike at the inherent strength of the drug networks and organized crime groups;

(3) law enforcement components of the Department of Justice should give high priority to the enforcement of civil sanctions against drug networks and organized crime groups; and

(4) the structure of the Department of Justice Criminal Division needs to be reviewed in order to determine the most effective structure to address such drug-related problems.

SEC. 1053. CIVIL ENFORCEMENT REPORT.

(a) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this title, the Director of National Drug Control Policy (the Director) in consultation with the Attorney General, shall report to the Congress on the necessity to establish a new division or make other organizational changes within the Department of Justice in order to promote better civil and criminal law enforcement. (c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—(1) There are authorized to be appropriated $2,175,000 for salaries and expenses to the Department of Justice General Legal Activities Account and $2,175,000 for salaries and expenses for United States Attorneys for fiscal year 1989.

(2) Any appropriation of funds authorized under paragraph (1) shall be—

(A) in addition to any appropriations requested by the President in the 1989 fiscal year budget submitted by the President to the Congress on February 18, 1988, or provided in regular appropriations Acts or continuing resolutions for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1989; and

(B) used to increase the number of field attorneys and related support staff over such personnel levels employed at the Department of Justice on September 30, 1988.

(b) TASK FORCE AGENTS.—To the greatest extent feasible, those agents assigned to the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force program shall be dedicated exclusively to and located with the Task Forces so that the Task Force personnel may develop increased expertise and function as a working unit. Those agents assigned to the Task Forces from the various participating agencies shall be given credit for the work of the Task Force, regardless of the statutory authority used to prosecute Task Force cases or the criminal or civil nature of the investigation.

(c) EXPENSES OF TASK FORCES.—(1) Beginning in fiscal year 1990, the Attorney General in his budget shall submit a separate appropriations request for expenses relating to all Federal agencies participating in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Forces. Such appropriations shall be made to the Department of Justice's Interagency Law Enforcement Appropriation Account for the Attorney General to make reimbursements to the involved agencies as necessary.

(2) The appropriations and reimbursements procedure described under paragraph (1) shall—

Such notice shall identify the law enforcement or Federal intelligence agency and any member of such agency on behalf of which and the period of time in which the defendant claims the actual or believed exercise of public authority occurred. If the notice identifies a Federal intelligence agency, the copy filed with the clerk shall be under seal. Within ten days after receiving the defendant's notice, but in no event less than twenty days before the trial, the attorney for the Government shall serve upon the defendant or the defendant's attorney a written response which shall admit or deny that the defendant exercised the public authority identified in the defendant's notice.

"(2) Disclosure of Witnesses.—At the time that the Government serves its response to the notice or thereafter, but in no event less than twenty days before the trial, the attorney for the Government may serve upon the defendant or the defendant's attorney a written demand for the names and addresses of the witnesses, if any, upon whom the defendant intends to rely in establishing the defense identified in the notice. SEC. 2758. JURISDICTION OVER FEDERAL LANDS.

(a) Findings.—Congress finds that—

(1) the States have law enforcement jurisdiction over approximately 97 percent of federally owned property in the United States;

(2) the States lack jurisdiction to enforce the law on the remaining 3 percent of federally owned property which is subject to exclusive or partial Federal jurisdiction;

(3) to a large extent, exclusive Federal jurisdiction of these parcels results from historical accident, and is unrelated to the use of which the property is being put;

(4) the parcels of federally owned property comprising this 3 percent often are scattered in checkerboard fashion almost at random throughout Federal properties intermixed almost at random with parcels subject to concurrent Federal and State jurisdiction and parcels subject solely to State jurisdiction;

(5) as a result, effective criminal law enforcement on these properties is seriously hampered;

(6) many problems resulting from the jurisdictional maze can be resolved by conferring upon the States criminal law enforcement jurisdiction over the 3 percent of properties currently under executive or partial Federal jurisdiction;

(7) for a very limited number of installations or portions of them, extension of such criminal law enforcement jurisdiction to the States may be inappropriate due to unique military concerns which require exclusive Federal jurisdiction to ensure the proper performance of military functions, missions, and tasks on those properties;

(8) the need for exclusive jurisdiction may change from time to time as the purposes to which installations are dedicated or other conditions change;

(9) on federally owned property over which both the United States and a State have law enforcement jurisdiction, enforcement emergencies arise periodically, albeit infrequently, which involve immediate danger of death or serious physical injury, e.g., a prison riot or hostage situation; and

(10) such law enforcement emergencies require decisive and coordinated action which is best achieved when a single level of government has clear-cut control over the law enforcement response.

(b) In General.—Chapter 1 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding after section 19 the following new section:

"§ 20. State criminal laws applicable on Federal enclaves

"(a) The criminal laws of a State and political subdivision thereof shall apply respectively on all Federal property within the State and subdivision thereof. For this purpose the States and their political subdivisions are hereby given jurisdiction to enforce such laws subject to the absolute discretion of a commanding officer of a military installation or the chief Federal operating officer of a nuclear facility of the Department of Energy to restrict the entry of persons, including law enforcement officers of a State or political subdivision thereof, upon the installation or facility.

"(b) The Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of a military department, or (with respect to a facility of the Coast Guard when it is operating as a Service in the Department of Transportation) the Secretary of Transportation, may from time to time exempt from the operation of subsection (a), by regulation, those military installations or parts thereof that are subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States and with respect to which exclusive Federal criminal jurisdiction is required by the peculiar nature of the military operation conducted thereon or the need to avoid undue interference with the purpose of any activity or project at the installation.

"(c)(1) Nothing in this section shall, in any way, limit the existing jurisdiction of the United States over any property described herein or confer on a State or political subdivision thereof any power to interfere with Federal functions or any additional power to tax not expressly provided for elsewhere in Federal law. The laws of States and political subdivisions thereof made applicable on Federal property by this section shall not apply to the United States or any instrumentality thereof or to officials or employees of the United States while acting in the reasonable belief that they are acting in the performance of their duties or scope of employment.

"(2) Nothing in this section shall impose upon a State or political subdivision thereof any obligation to exercise jurisdiction over the Federal property described herein or create any right or defense for any person charged with a criminal offense in any Federal or State court.

"(d) When the criminal activity occurring on federally owned land involves immediate danger of death or serious physical injury to a person, and both the United States and a State have criminal law enforcement jurisdiction over that property, the Attorney General or the Deputy Attorney General of the United States is authorized to declare, based on his judgment, a law enforcement emergency, thereby suspending the exercise of police powers by the State over the particular criminal activity, except that the State may exercise those police powers necessary to respond to specific requests for assistance made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A declaration under this subsection shall be subject to the following conditions:

"(1) The authority to issue such a declaration may not be delegated.

"(2) The declaration is to be in writing and is to specify with particularity the criminal activity which constitutes the law enforcement emergency.

"(3) Unless sooner withdrawn, the declaration remains in effect for a period of 72 hours. In the event the particular criminal activity continues, the declaration may be renewed by the Attorney General or Deputy Attorney General, in increments not to exceed 72 hours, until the criminal activity has been brought to a conclusion.

"(4) The declaration of a law enforcement emergency does not deprive the State of its jurisdiction to prosecute persons responsible for the criminal activity which was the subject of such declaration.

"(e) For purposes of this section—

"(1) the term 'Federal property' includes all real property owned, leased, or used by the United States that is included within the part of the 'special maritime territorial jurisdiction of the United States' described in paragraph (3) of section 7 of this title, but does not include the Indian country as defined in section 1151 of this title;

"(2) the term 'criminal law' includes regulations which provide for a criminal sanction of for both a criminal and administrative sanction; and

"(3) the term 'military installation' means any property described in paragraph (1) that is under the administrative control of—

"(A) the Department of Defense or one or more military departments of the Department of Defense; or

"(B) the Coast Guard.".

"(b) Where the transfer to the United States of a person in custody for the purposes of giving testimony is provided for by treaty or convention, by this section, or both, that person shall be returned to the foreign country from which he is transferred. In no event shall the return of such person require any request for extradition or extradition proceedings, or proceedings under the immigration laws.

"(c) Where there is a treaty or convention between the United States and the foreign country in which the witness is being held in custody which provides for the transfer, custody and return of such witnesses, the terms and conditions of that treaty shall apply. Where there is no such treaty or convention, the Attorney General may exercise the authority described in paragraph (a) if both the foreign country and the witness give their consent.".

(2) the unlawful production of marijuana and other controlled substances often—

(A) is generally harmful to the environment and public health and safety;

(4) the Forest Service needs to be able to exercise its investigative authorities outside the boundaries of the National Forest System for drug-related crimes arising from within the National Forest System in order to be effective in deterring such crime;

(5) the authority and powers of the Forest Service are not intended to be in conflict or interfere with the statutory authority, powers, or responsibilities of any State or political subdivision thereof; and

"(1) the application or amendment thereto is consistent with the requirements of this subpart; and

"(2) before the approval of the application and any amendment thereto the Bureau has made an affirmative finding in writing that the program or project has been reviewed in accordance with this subpart.

"(b) Each application or amendment made and submitted for approval to the Bureau pursuant to section 503 shall be deemed approved, in whole or in part, by the Bureau not later than 45 days after first received unless the Bureau informs the applicant of specific reasons for disapproval.

"(c) Grant funds awarded under this subpart shall not be used for land acquisition or construction projects, other than penal and correctional institutions.

"(d) The Bureau shall not finally disapprove any application, or any amendment thereto, submitted to the Director under this section without first affording the applicant reasonable notice and opportunity for reconsideration.

"SEC. 506. ALLOCATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS UNDER FORMULA GRANTS.

"(a) Of the total amount appropriated for this part in any fiscal year, less amounts set aside for evaluation pursuant to section 520 and section 1001(a)(6), 80 percent shall be set aside for section 502 and allocated to States as follows:

"(1) $750,000 shall be allocated to each of the participating States; and

"(2) of the total funds remaining after the allocation under paragraph (1), there shall be allocated to each State an amount which bears the same ratio to the amount of remaining funds described in this paragraph as the population of such State bears to the population of all the States.

"(b) Of the amounts set aside for this section, not less than 10 percent shall be used to fund street sales enforcement programs of which the primary goal is to strengthen urban enforcement and prosecution efforts targeted at street level narcotics activity in areas of high-intensity drug trafficking. The Director may, in his discretion, waive this requirement at the request of a State, where the imposition of this requirement is clearly inappropriate given the States documented needs as specified in their statewide strategy. Such projects may include—

"(1) the early involvement of prosecution and court functions in order to ensure that both citizen rights and system impact issues are addressed;

"(2) the training and utilization of uniformed personnel and the certification of uniformed officers as narcotics experts for testifying in court;

"(3) the deployment of street teams for on-going investigations and arrests of street narcotics dealers and buyers, and the involvement of law enforcement personnel to ensure that citizen concerns regarding narcotics conditions are addressed;

"(4) the enhancement of prosecution, adjudication, and corrections resources to accommodate the increased case loads generated through intensive, street-level enforcement programs;

"(5) the organization and deployment of mobile task forces to target those areas of the city where street sales of drugs have become blatant;

"(6) the development and implementation of innovative law enforcement programs, such as undercover buy programs aimed at the street retailer and the enforcement of asset seizure and forfeiture laws; and

"(7) the coordination of such projects with forensic laboratory services.

"(c)(1) Each State which received funds under subsection (a) of this section in a fiscal year shall distribute among units of local government, or combinations of units of local government, in such State for the purposes specified in section 501(b) that portion of such funds which bears the same ratio to the aggregate amount of such funds as the amount of funds expended by all units of local government for criminal justice in the preceding fiscal year bears to the aggregate amount of funds expended by the State and all units of local government in such State for criminal justice in such preceding fiscal year.

"(2) Each State which receives funds under subsection (a) shall provide to units of local government or combinations thereof with a minimum population of 500,000, or if the largest such unit or combination has less than 500,000, to the largest such unit or combination thereof in the State, of the pass through formula, a percentage of such funds which is not less than a portion of such funds which bears the same ratio to the amount of funds expended by such local government or combination thereof to the aggregate amount of funds expended by all units of local government for criminal justice in the preceding fiscal year.

"(3) Any funds not distributed to units of local government under paragraph (1) shall be available for expenditure by the State involved.

"(4) For purposes of determining the distribution of funds under paragraph (1), the most accurate and complete data available for the fiscal year involved shall be used. If data for such fiscal year are not available, then the most accurate and complete data available for the most recent fiscal year preceding such fiscal year shall be used.

"(d) No funds allocated to a State under subsection (a) or received by a State for distribution under subsections (b) and (c) may be distributed by the Director or by the State involved for any program other than a program contained in an approved application.

"(e) If the Director determines, on the basis of information available during any fiscal year, that a portion of the funds allocated to a State for that fiscal year will not be required or that a State will be unable to qualify or receive funds under section 502, or that a State chooses not to participate in the program established under such section, then such portion shall be awarded by the Director to urban, rural, and suburban units of local government or combinations thereof within such State giving priority to those jurisdictions with greatest need.

"(f) Any funds allocated under subsection (a) or (e) that are not distributed under this section shall be available for obligation under subpart 2.

"(3) coordinating the distribution of funds provided under this part with State agencies receiving Federal funds for drug abuse education, prevention, treatment, and research activities and programs.

"(b) An office or agency performing other functions within the executive branch of a State may be designated to carry out the functions specified in subsection (a).

"SEC. 508. DISTRIBUTION OF GRANTS TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

"(a) Each application made by a local unit of government, or a combination of units of local government, to a State for funds under this subchapter shall be deemed approved, in whole or in part, by the State not later than 45 days after first received unless the State informs the applicant in writing of specific reasons for disapproval. The State shall not finally disapprove any application submitted to the State without first affording the applicant reasonable notice and opportunity for reconsideration.

"(b)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), each State which receives funds under section 506 in a fiscal year shall make such funds available to local units of government, or combinations of units of local government, whose application has been submitted to, approved and awarded by the State, within 90-days after the Bureau has approved the State application and has made funds available to such State. If the State does not distribute such funds to any local unit of government, or combination thereof, within that time, the State shall return such funds to the Director who shall directly award such funds to the local unit of government, or combination thereof. The Director shall have the authority to waive the 90-day requirement in this section upon a finding that the State cannot satisfy that requirement consistent with State statutes.

"(2) Each State which receives funds under section 506 in a fiscal year shall make such funds available to local units of government, or combinations thereof, with a minimum population of 500,000, or if the largest such unit or combination has less than 500,000, to the largest such unit or combination thereof in the State, whose application has been submitted to, approved, and awarded by the State, within 45 days after the Bureau has approved the State application and has made funds available to such State. If the State does not distribute such funds within that time, the State shall return such funds to the Director who shall directly award such funds to the local unit of government, or combination thereof. "(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an order of deportation for an aggravated alien felon in his native language, shall be personally served on the alleged aggravated alien felon named therein. Such deportation order shall be simply worded to inform the alleged aggravated alien felon of at least the following information:

The burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence is upon the petitioner to establish United States citizenship and the burden of proof by a preponderance of evidence is upon the United States to establish that the person named in the order of deportation is petitioner or that petitioner was convicted and sentenced for an aggravated felony. The Federal Rules of Evidence shall apply to this hearing. At the conclusion of the hearing the United States district court shall make a finding as to whether petitioner is a aggravated alien felon and thus subject to deportation pursuant to this section. If petitioner is adjudicated a aggravated alien felon, the court shall issue a final order of deportation.

"(5) Petitioner may appeal a final order of deportation, issued pursuant to this section, to the appropriate United States court of appeals, and such deportation order shall be stayed pending the decision and order of the court of appeals. The United States may appeal the vacatur of an order of deportation, issued pursuant to this section, to the appropriate United States court of appeals.

(a) In General.—By no later than the date that is 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act and after an opportunity for public comment, the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe regulations which sets forth criteria for use by the owner, master, pilot, operator, or officer of, or other employee in charge of, any conveyance in meeting the standards under sections 584 and 594 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1584; 1594) for the exercise of the highest degree of care and diligence to know whether controlled substances imported into the United States are onboard the conveyance.

(b) Air Carrier Smuggling Prevention Program.—(1) The Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of Transportation, shall issue controlled substances regulations for a 2-year demonstration program within 6 months of the enactment of this section. The regulations shall apply to at least three United States International Airports classified as high-risk by Customs and based upon the volume of cargo and number of aircraft arriving from high-risk points of departure. Such regulations shall establish procedures for air carrier development and Customs Service approval of foreign and domestic security and inspection practices. The regulations shall permit air carriers to request the Secretary of the Treasury to permit air carriers, the Customs Service, or an approved agent of the United States Customs Service to inspect at United States airports of entry, and aircraft arriving from foreign locations. The Secretary of the Treasury shall approve such request if the applicant meets the requirements of the regulations. Taking into account all considerations of security, law enforcement, and commercial needs, inspections of aircraft, and cargo shall be conducted and completed within a reasonable period of time.

(2) Air carriers which have applied to the Secretary of the Treasury and which the Secretary determines to be in compliance with the regulations and inspection requirements promulgated under paragraph (1) shall be considered participating air carriers. The Secretary of the Treasury shall establish by regulation a procedure for finding a carrier to be a participating carrier and procedures for subsequent removal of that status. The Secretary shall not remove an air carrier from the status of participating air carrier unless he or she shall first have provided it a written notice that the air carrier is not in compliance with the regulations or inspection requirements promulgated under paragraph (1), which notice shall include the reasons for that determination, and shall have provided the air carrier a reasonable opportunity to correct such noncompliance.

(3) Participating air carriers shall be considered to have met the test of the highest degree of care and diligence required under law, and shall not be subject to the penalty or seizure provisions of this Act, if a controlled substance is discovered aboard an aircraft that they may own or operate or in the cargo they carried, if the participating air carrier establishes at an oral presentation that the air carrier was not grossly negligent nor engaged in willful misconduct, and complied with the applicable procedures established in the regulations promulgated under paragraph (1).

(4) For the purpose of this subsection, the term "air carrier" shall mean air carrier or foreign air carrier as those terms are defined in section 101 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. App. 1301).

(5) No provision of this section shall have any effect on air transportation security requirements prescribed pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended.

Sec. 3092. Effective date.

SEC. 3002. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that—

(1) there are large number of substance abusers in the United States seriously enough impaired to require treatment;

(2) of these abusers, only a small fraction is currently receiving treatment;

(3) substance abuse treatment facilities in the United States are operating above full capacity and many individuals who desire treatment must wait long periods of time before they receive treatment;

(4) drug abuse and the lack of adequate treatment programs poses a threat to our most precious resource, our young people, with almost two-thirds of the graduating high school class of 1985 having used an illicit drug and 17 percent having used cocaine;

(5) increased drug use is strongly linked to violent, gang-related and addiction-related crime; and

(6) treatment for substance abuse is cost-effective and in the best interest of society and the individual.

SEC. 3003. PURPOSES.

(a) ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE.—It is the purpose of this title to—

(1) continue and expand the partnership that exists between the Federal Government and the States in the development, maintenance, and improvement of the national network of comprehensive, community-based alcohol and drug abuse programs;

(2) provide financial and technical assistance to States and communities to assist in the development and maintenance of a core of prevention services that will significantly reduce the number and scope of alcohol and drug abuse problems;

(3) assist and encourage States in the initiation and expansion of prevention and treatment services for underserved populations;

(4) increase the understanding of the public concerning the extent of alcohol and other forms of drug abuse throughout the United States and the need for appropriate treatment services through—

(A) the expansion of data collection activities; and

(B) the support of research on the comparative cost and efficacy of existing alcohol and drug abuse prevention and treatment services; and

(5) increase to the greatest extent possible the availability and quality of treatment services so that treatment on request may be provided to all individuals desiring to rid themselves of their substance abuse problem.

(b) MENTAL HEALTH.—It is the purpose of this title to—

(1) encourage the development and provision of community mental health services by the States;

(2) encourage the development of a comprehensive community mental health system within each State;

(3) encourage the implementation of new and expanded community mental health services;

(4) encourage States to provide community mental health services in the least restrictive appropriate environment, and to involve the families of individuals undergoing mental health treatment in the development and provision of such services;

(5) encourage States to ensure respect for the rights and needs of recipients of mental health services and to involve such recipients in the development and provision of services, including the development of client-run services;

(6) foster interagency coordination and integration among a broad range of human service providers, support groups, and advocates to ensure that mental health, rehabilitation, vocational, educational, health, and residential services are available to individuals who need such services;

(7) provide Federal assistance to expand community mental health services within each State; and

(8) increase the understanding of the public concerning the extent of mental illness throughout the United States and the need for appropriate treatment services through—

(A) the expansion of data collection activities; and

(B) the support of research on the comparative cost and efficacy of existing mental health services.

SEC. 3004. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) alcoholism and other drug dependencies are problems of grave concern and consequence in American society;

(2) the social and economic costs of alcoholism and other drug dependencies, particularly to the health care system, are staggering;

(3) the health consequences of alcoholism and other drug dependencies can be as formidable as those of other diseases;

(4) in 1970, the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism was created within the Public Health Service, to finance treatment, research, and prevention initiatives;

(5) in 1973, the National Institute on Drug Abuse was created to focus on issues concerning drug abuse treatment, research and prevention;

(6) in 1976, alcoholics and other drug dependent individuals were included within the definition of disabled persons under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973;

(7) Congress itself, as well as organizations such as the American Medical Association, the National Council on Alcoholism, the National Association of Addiction Treatment Providers and the American Medical Society on Alcoholism and Other Drug Dependencies have recognized that alcoholism and other drug dependencies are treatable diseases; and

(8) the public and private sectors endeavor to treat Americans who suffer from these diseases.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) alcoholism and drug dependencies are treatable diseases; and

(2) treatment opportunities, in both the public and private sectors can provide a successful means of recovery from alcoholism and other drug dependencies and are essential elements to solving the nation's drug problem.

SEC. 3005. REFERENCES TO THE PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE ACT.

Except as otherwise specifically provided, whenever in this title an amendment or repeal is expressed in terms of an amendment to, or repeal of, a section or other provision, the reference shall be considered to be made to a section or other provision of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 201n et seq.).

(B) eliminate the transshipment of such drugs through countries in the Western Hemisphere;

(C) curb the demand for and use of such drugs in every country in the Western Hemisphere;

(3) whether it should be United States policy to encourage all countries which produce licit opium to use the concentrated poppy straw method of production; and

(4) what options are available, consistent with treaties to which the United States is a party, to reduce United States reliance on licit opium gum from foreign sources.

The results of this review shall be reported to the Congress six months after the date of enactment of this Act.

CHAPTER 2—PUBLIC HOUSING DRUG ELIMINATION PILOT PROGRAM

SEC. 5125. SHORT TITLE.

This chapter may be cited as the "Public Housing Drug Elimination Act of 1988".

SEC. 5126. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) the Federal Government has a duty to provide public housing that is decent, safe, and free from illegal drugs;

(2) public housing projects in many areas suffer from rampant drug-related crime;

(3) drug dealers are increasingly imposing a reign of terror on public housing tenants;

(4) the increase in drug-related crime not only leads to murders, muggings, and other forms of violence against tenants, but also to a deterioration of the physical environment that requires substantial government expenditures; and

(5) local law enforcement authorities often lack the resources to deal with the drug problem in public housing, particularly in light of the recent reductions in Federal aid to cities.

SEC. 5127. PROGRAM AUTHORIZED.

The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, is authorized to make grants to public housing agencies for use in eliminating drug-related crime in public housing projects.

SEC. 5128. AUTHORIZED ACTIVITIES.

A public housing agency may use a grant under this chapter for—

(1) the employment of security personnel in public housing projects;

(2) reimbursement of local law enforcement agencies for additional security and protective services for public housing projects;

(3) physical improvements in public housing projects which are specifically designed to enhance security;

(4) innovative programs designed to reduce use of drugs in and around public housing projects; and

(5) providing funding to nonprofit public housing resident management corporation and tenant councils to develop security and drug abuse prevention programs involving site residents.

SEC. 5129. APPLICATION.

(a) In General.—To receive a grant under this chapter, a public housing agency shall submit an application to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, at such time, in such manner, and accompanied by such additional information as the Secretary may reasonably require. Such application shall include a plan for addressing the problem of drug-related crime on the premises of public housing projects administered by the public housing agency.

(b) Criteria.—The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall approve applications based upon—

(1) the extent of the crime problem in the facilities of the public housing project;

(2) the quality of the plan of the public housing agency to address crime in public housing projects; and

(3) the extent to which the local government and local community support the anti-crime activities of the public housing agency.

SEC. 5130. IMPLEMENTATION.

The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement this chapter within 180 days of enactment.

SEC. 5131. REPORT TO CONGRESS.

SEC. 5132. AUTHORIZATION.

There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out the provisions of this chapter $8,200,000 for fiscal year 1989.

CHAPTER 3—REPORT ON IMPACT OF PUBLIC HOUSING LEASE AND GRIEVANCE REGULATION ON THE ABILITY OF PHAS TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST TENANTS ENGAGING IN CRIMINAL ACTIVITY.

SEC. 5141. REPORT ON IMPACT OF PUBLIC HOUSING LEASE AND GRIEVANCE REGULATION ON THE ABILITY OF PHAS TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST TENANTS ENGAGING IN CRIMINAL ACTIVITY.

Subtitle D—Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988

SEC. 5201. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988".

SEC. 5202. DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE REQUIREMENTS FOR FEDERAL CONTRACTORS.

(a) Drug-Free Workplace Requirement.—No person or organization shall be considered a responsible source, under the meaning of such term as defined in section 4(8) of the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 403(8)), for the purposes of being awarded a contract for the procurement of any property or services from any Federal agency unless such person or organization has certified to the contracting agency that it will provide a drug-free workplace by—

(1) publishing a statement notifying employees that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the person's or organization's workplace and specifying the actions that will be taken against employees for violations of such prohibition;

(2) establishing a drug-free awareness program to inform employees about—

(A) the dangers of drug abuse in the workplace;

(B) the person's or organization's policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace;

(C) any available drug counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance programs; and

(D) the penalties that may be imposed upon employees for drug abuse violations;

(3) making it a requirement that each employee to be engaged in the performance of such contract be given a copy of the statement required by paragraph (1) and that, as a condition of employment on such contract, the employee agree—

(A) to abide by the terms of the statement; and

(B) to notify the employer of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than 5 days after such conviction;

(4) notifying the contracting agency within 10 days after receiving notice under paragraph (3)(B) from an employee or otherwise receiving actual notice of such conviction;

(5) imposing a sanction on, or requiring the satisfactory participation in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program by, any employee who is so convicted, as required by section 5204; and

(6) making a good faith effort to continue to maintain a drug-free workplace through implementation of paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5).

(b) SUSPENSION, TERMINATION, OR DEBARMENT OF THE CONTRACTOR.—

(1) GROUNDS FOR SUSPENSION, TERMINATION, OR DEBARMENT.—Each contract awarded by a Federal agency shall be subject to suspension of payments under the contract or termination of the contract, or both, and the contractor thereunder shall be subject to debarment, in accordance with the requirements of this section if the board of contract appeals of the contracting agency determines that—

The board of contract appeals shall, based upon a preponderance of the evidence presented, resolve all issues of fact, determine whether a basis exists for the suspension or termination of the contract or debarment of the contractor, and issue a final decision in favor of or against suspension or termination of the contract or debarment of the contractor. A proceeding, decision, or order of the board pursuant to this subsection shall not be subject to interlocutory appeal or review. Determinations and final decisions of the board of contract appeals shall be final unless appealed by the contractor to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit within 60 days after the receipt by the contractor of a copy of a final decision of the board of contract appeals. (3) CONDUCT BY GSA BOARD.—In the case of an agency that has not established a board of contract appeals under section 8(a)(1) of the Contract Disputes Act of 1978 (41 U.S.C. 607(a)(1)), the General Services Administration Board of Contract Appeals shall make the determinations and issue final decisions under paragraph (2) for such agencies. Upon issuance of any final decision recommending against debarment of the contractor, the contractor shall be compensated as provided by law or regulations.

SEC. 5203. DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE REQUIREMENTS FOR FEDERAL GRANT RECIPIENTS.

(a) DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE REQUIREMENT.—No person or organization shall receive a grant from any Federal agency unless such person or organization has certified to the granting agency that it will provide a drug-free workplace by—

(5) imposing a sanction on, or requiring the satisfactory participation in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program by, any employee who is so convicted, as required by section 5204; and

(6) making a good faith effort to continue to maintain a drug-free workplace through implementation of paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5).

(b) SUSPENSION, TERMINATION, OR DEBARMENT OF THE GRANTEE.—

(1) GROUNDS FOR SUSPENSION, TERMINATION, OR DEBARMENT.—Each grant awarded by a Federal agency shall be subject to suspension of payments under the grant or termination of the grant, or both, and the grantee thereunder shall be subject to debarment, in accordance with the requirements of this section if the agency head of the granting agency or his official designee determines, in writing, that—

(A) the grantee has made a false certification under subsection (a);

(B) the grantee violates such certification by failing to carry out the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), (3), (4), or (5) of subsection (a); or

(C) such a number of employees of such grantee have been convicted of violations of criminal drug statutes for violations occurring in the workplace as to indicate that the grantee has failed to make a good faith effort to provide a drug-free workplace as required by subsection (a).

(2) require such employee to satisfactorily participate in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program approved for such purposes by a Federal, State, or local health, law enforcement, or other appropriate agency.

SEC. 5205. WAIVER.

(a) IN GENERAL.—A termination, suspension, or debarment under this Act may be waived by the head of an agency with respect to a particular contract or grant if—

(1) in the case of a waiver with respect to a contract, the head of the agency determines, after the issuance of a final determination under section 3(b) by a board of contract appeals regarding a contract entered into by that agency, that suspension or termination of the contract or debarment of the contractor, or refusal to permit a person or organization to be treated as a responsible source for a contract, as the case may be, would severely disrupt the operation of such agency to the detriment of the Federal Government or the general public; or

(2) in the case of a waiver with respect to a grant, the head of the agency determines that suspension or termination of the grant or debarment of the grantee would not be in the public interest.

(b) EXCLUSIVE AUTHORITY.—The authority of the head of an agency under this section to waive a termination, suspension, or debarment shall not be delegated.

SEC. 5251. TRANSPORTATION INDUSTRY ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES TESTING PROGRAM.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) alcohol and drug abuse poses significant dangers to the safety and welfare of the Nation;

(2) millions of the Nation's citizens utilize transportation by aircraft, railroads, trucks, and buses, and depend on the operators of aircraft, railroads, trucks, and buses to perform in a safe and responsible manner;

(3) the greatest efforts must be expended to eliminate the abuse of alcohol and use of illegal drugs, whether on duty or off duty, by those individuals who are involved in the operation of aircraft, railroads, trucks, and buses;

(4) the use of alcohol and illegal drugs has been demonstrated to affect significantly the performance of individuals, and has been proven to have been a critical factor in transportation accidents;

(5) adequate safeguards can be implemented to ensure that testing for abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs is performed in a manner which protects an individual's right of privacy, ensures that no individual is harassed by being treated differently from other individuals, and ensures that no individual's reputation or career development is unduly threatened or harmed; and

(6) rehabilitation is a critical component of any testing program for abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs, and should be made available to individuals, as appropriate.

(b) TESTING PROGRAM.—(1) Title VI of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 App. U.S.C. 1421 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES TESTING

"TESTING PROGRAM

"SEC. 613. (a)(1) The Administrator shall, in the interest of aviation safety, prescribe regulations within twelve months after the date of enactment of this section. Such regulations shall establish a program which requires air carriers and foreign air carriers to conduct pre-employment, periodic recurring, random and post-accident testing of airmen, crewmembers, airport security screening contract personnel, and other air carrier employees responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), and testing of such individuals upon a reasonable suspicion that they have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

"(2) The Administrator shall establish a program applicable to employees of the Federal Aviation Administration whose duties include responsibility for safety-sensitive functions. Such program shall provide for pre-employment, periodic recurring, random and post-accident testing, and testing of such individuals upon a reasonable suspicion that they have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

"(3) In prescribing regulations under the programs required by this subsection, the Administrator shall require, as the Administrator considers appropriate, the suspension or revocation of any certificate issued to such an individual, or the disqualification or dismissal of any such individual, in accordance with the provisions of this section, in any instance where a test conducted and confirmed under this section indicates that such individual has used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

"PROHIBITION ON SERVICE

"(b)(1) No person may use, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance after the date of enactment of this section and serve as an airman, crewmember, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employee responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employee of the Federal Aviation Administration with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions.

"(2) No individual who is determined to have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance after the date of enactment of this section shall serve as an airman, crewmember, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employee responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employee of the Federal Aviation Administration with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions unless such individual has completed a program of rehabilitation described in subsection (c) of this section.

"(3) Any such individual determined by the Administrator to have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance after the date of enactment of this section who (A) refuses to undertake a rehabilitation program described in subsection (c), (B) fails to complete such a rehabilitation program, (C) has previously undertaken or completed such a rehabilitation program, or (D) has been determined by the Administrator to have served as an airman, crewmember, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employee responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employee of the Federal Aviation Administration with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions while impaired by or under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance, shall not be permitted to perform the duties relating to air transportation which such individual performed prior to the date of such determination.

"PROGRAM FOR REHABILITATION

"(c)(1) Each air carrier and foreign air carrier shall establish and maintain a rehabilitation program which at a minimum provides for the identification and opportunity for treatment of employees referred to in subsection (b) of this section in need of assistance in resolving problems with the use, without lawful authorization, of alcohol or controlled substances. Each air carrier and foreign air carrier is encouraged to make such program available to all of its employees other than employees referred to in subsection (b) of this section. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude any air carrier or foreign air carrier from establishing a program under this subsection in cooperation with any other air carrier or foreign air carrier.

"(2) The Administrator shall establish and maintain a rehabilitation program which at a minimum provides for the identification and opportunity for treatment of those employees of the Federal Aviation Administration whose duties include responsibility for safety-sensitive functions who are in need of assistance in resolving problems with the use of alcohol or controlled substances.

"PROCEDURES

"(d) In establishing the program required under subsection (a) of this section, the Administrator shall develop requirements which shall—

"(1) promote, to the maximum extent practicable, individual privacy in the collection of specimen samples;

"(2) with respect to laboratories and testing procedures, incorporate the Department of Health and Human Services scientific and technical guidelines dated April 11, 1988, and any subsequent amendments thereto, including mandatory guidelines which—

"(A) establish comprehensive standards for all aspects of laboratory drug testing and laboratory procedures to be applied in carrying out this section, including standards which require the use of the best available technology for ensuring the full reliability and accuracy of drug tests and strict procedures governing the chain of custody of specimens collected for drug testing;

"(B) specify the drugs for which individuals may be tested; and

"(C) establish appropriate standards and procedures for periodic review of laboratories and criteria for certification and revocation of certification of laboratories to perform drug testing in carrying out this section;

"(3) provide that all tests which indicate the use, without lawful authorization, of alcohol or a controlled substance by any individual shall be confirmed by a scientifically recognized method of testing capable of providing quantitative data regarding alcohol or a controlled substance;

"(4) require that all laboratories involved in the testing of any individual under this section shall have the capability and facility, at such laboratory, of performing screening and confirmation tests;

"(5) provide for the confidentiality of test results and medical information (other than information relating to alcohol or a controlled substance) of employees, except that the provisions of this paragraph shall not preclude the use of test results for the orderly imposition of appropriate sanctions under this section; and

"(6) ensure that employees are selected for tests by nondiscriminatory and impartial methods, so that no employee is harassed by being treated differently from other employees in similar circumstances.

"EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS AND REGULATIONS

"(e)(1) No State or local government shall adopt or put into effect any law, rule, regulation, ordinance, standard or order that is inconsistent with the regulations promulgated under this section, except that the regulations promulgated under this section shall not be construed to preempt provisions of State criminal law which impose sanctions for reckless conduct leading to actual loss of life, injury or damage to property, whether the provisions apply specifically to employees of an air carrier or foreign air carrier, or to the general public.

"(2) Nothing in this section shall preclude the Administrator from adopting or continuing in effect other regulations intended to protect persons or property on the ground or in the air from the hazards to safety associated with the potential use of alcohol or controlled substances by airmen, crewmembers, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employees responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employees of the Federal Aviation Administration) with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions.

"(6) ensure that employees are selected for tests by nondiscriminatory and impartial methods, so that no employee is harassed by being treated differently from other employees in similar circumstances.

"(e) Effect on Other Laws and Regulations.—No State or local government shall adopt or put into effect any law, rule, regulation, ordinance, standard, or order that is inconsistent with the regulations promulgated under this section, except that the regulations promulgated under this section shall not be construed to preempt provisions of State criminal law which impose sanctions for reckless conduct leading to actual loss of life, injury or damage to property, whether the provisions apply specifically to commercial motor vehicle employees, or to the general public.

"(f) Application of Penalties.—(1) Nothing in this section shall be construed to supersede any penalty applicable to the operator of a commercial motor vehicle under this Act or any other provision of law.

"(2) The Secretary shall determine appropriate sanctions for commercial motor vehicle operators who are determined, as a result of tests conducted and confirmed under this section, to have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance but are not under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance, as provided in this title.

"(g) Definition.—For the purposes of this section, the term 'controlled substance' means any substance under section 102(6) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 802(6)) whose use the Secretary had determined poses a risk to transportation safety.".

(2) The table of contents of the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-570; 100 Stat. 5223) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Sec. 12020. Alcohol and controlled substances testing.".

(e) Commercial Motor Vehicles.—(1) The Secretary shall design, within nine months after the date of enactment of this section, and implement, within fifteen months after the date of enactment of this section, a pilot test program for the purpose of testing the operators of commercial motor vehicles on a random basis to determine whether an operator has used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

(2) The Secretary shall solicit the participation of States which are interested in participating in such program and shall select four States to participate in the program.

(3) The Secretary shall ensure that the selection made pursuant to this section is representative of varying geographical and population characteristics of the Nation, and takes into consideration the historical geographical incidence of commercial motor vehicle accidents involving loss of human life.

(4) The pilot program authorized by this section shall continue for a period of 1 year. The Secretary shall consider alternative methodologies for implementing a system of random testing of operators of commercial motor vehicles.

(5) Not later than 30 months after the date of enactment of this section, the Secretary shall prepare and submit to the Congress a comprehensive report setting forth the results of the pilot program conducted under this section. Such report shall include any recommendations of the Secretary concerning the desirability and implementation of a system for the random testing of operators of commercial motor vehicles.

(6) For purposes of carrying out this subsection, there shall be available to the Secretary $5,000,000 from funds made available to carry out section 404 of the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1982 for fiscal year 1988.

(7) For purposes of this subsection, the term—

(1) "commercial motor vehicle" shall have the meaning given to such term in section 12019(6) of the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-570; 100 Stat. 5241); and

(2) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Transportation.

(f) Urban Mass Transit.—(1) The Secretary of Transportation shall, in the interest of urban mass transportation safety, prescribe regulations within 12 months after the date of enactment of this section. Such regulations shall establish a program which requires urban mass transportation operations to conduct pre-employment, periodic recurring, random, and post-accident testing of urban mass transportation employees responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Secretary), and testing of such employees upon a reasonable suspicion that they have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

(2) In prescribing such regulations, the Secretary shall require that post-accident testing of such an urban mass transportation employee be conducted in the case of any accident involving urban mass transportation in which occurs loss of human life, or, as determined by the Secretary, other serious accidents involving bodily injury or significant property damage.

(3) The Secretary shall promulgate regulations setting forth requirements for a rehabilitation program for the identification and opportunity for treatment of urban mass transportation employees referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection who are determined to have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance. The Secretary shall determine the circumstances under which such employees shall be required to participate in such program. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude an urban mass transportation operation from establishing a program under this subsection in cooperation with any other such operation.

(4) In establishing the program required under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Secretary shall develop requirements which shall—

(A) promote, to the maximum extent practicable, individual privacy in the collection of specimen samples;

(B) with respect to the laboratory and testing procedures, incorporate the Department of Health and Human Services scientific and technical guidelines dated April 11, 1988, and any subsequent amendments thereto, including mandatory guidelines which—

(i) establish comprehensive standards for all aspects of laboratory drug testing and laboratory procedures to be applied in carrying out this subsection, including standards which require the use of the best available technology for ensuring the full reliability and accuracy of drug tests and strict procedures governing the chain of custody of specimens collected for drug testing;

(ii) specify the drugs for which individuals may be tested; and

(iii) establish appropriate standards and procedures for periodic review of laboratories and criteria for certification and revocation of certification of laboratories to perform drug testing in carrying out this subsection;

(C) provide that all tests which indicate the use, without lawful authorization, of alcohol or a controlled substance by any individual shall be confirmed by a scientifically recognized method of testing capable of providing quantitative data regarding alcohol or a controlled substance;

(D) require that all laboratories involved in the testing of any individual under this subsection shall have the capability and facility, at such laboratory, of performing screening and confirmation tests;

(E) provide for the confidentiality of test results and medical information (other than information relating to alcohol or a controlled substance) of employees, except that the provisions of this subparagraph shall not preclude the use of test results for the orderly imposition of appropriate sanctions under this subsection; and

(F) ensure that employees are selected for tests by nondiscriminatory and impartial methods, so that no employee is harassed by being treated differently from other employees in similar circumstances.

(5) No State or local government shall adopt or put into effect any law, rule, regulation, ordinance, standard, or order that is inconsistent with the regulations promulgated under this subsection, except that the regulations promulgated under this subsection shall not be construed to preempt provisions of State criminal law which impose sanctions for reckless conduct leading to actual loss of life, injury, or damage to property, whether the provisions apply specifically to urban mass transportation employees, or to the general public.

(6)(A) As the Secretary considers appropriate, the Secretary shall require—

(i) disqualification for an established period of time or dismissal of any employee referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection determined to have used or to have been impaired by alcohol while on duty; and

(ii) disqualification for an established period of time or dismissal of any such employee determined to have used a controlled substance, whether on duty or not on duty, except as permitted for medical purposes by law or any regulation.

(B) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to supercede any penalty applicable to an urban mass transportation employee under any other provision of law.

(7) For purposes of this subsection, the term—

(A) "controlled substance" means any substance under section 102(6) of the Controlled Substance Act (21 U.S.C. 802(6)) whose use the Secretary has determined poses a risk to transportation safety; and

(b) "urban mass transportation" means all forms of urban mass transportation whose employees are not covered by either section 202 of the Federal Railroad Safety Act of 1970 (45 U.S.C. 431) or section 12020 of the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-570; 100 State. 5223), as added by this section.

(8) A person shall not be eligible for Federal financial assistance under sections 3, 9, or 18 of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964 (49 App. U.S.C. 1602, 1607a, or 1604) or section 103(e)(4) of title 23, United States Code, if such person—

(A) is required, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary under section 202 of the Federal Railroad Safety Act of 1970 (45 U.S.C. 431), section 12020 of the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-570; 100; Stat. 5223), as added by this section, or subsection (e) of this section, to establish a program of alcohol and controlled substances testing; and

(B) fails to establish such a program in accordance with such regulations.

(g) For purposes of this section, the term—

(1) "person" includes any corporation, partnership, joint venture, association, or other entity organized or existing under the laws of the United States, or any State, commonwealth, territory, district, or possession thereof, or of any foreign country; and

(2) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Transportation.

Subtitle F—Federal Privileges and Benefits

SEC. 5301. FEDERAL PRIVILEGES AND BENEFITS.

(a) LIST OF PRIVILEGES AND BENEFITS RECOMMENDED FOR WITHHOLDING.—(1) The Director of National Drug Control Policy shall, upon consultation with the Secretary of Health and Human Services and the Attorney General, submit to the Congress no later than 12 months after the enactment of this title a list of any Federal privileges, benefits, grants, and loans, which, if withheld from individuals convicted of a Federal or State drug offense, would significantly deter the use of illegal drugs in the United States. The Director shall not include in the list any grants, loans, and benefits which the Director determines to be essential to the health or well being of the recipient or beneficiary.

(2) The Director shall accompany the list with a report exploring the potential benefits and liabilities of the withholding of privileges, benefits, grants, and loans in the Federal effort to fight substance abuse and explaining the reasoning behind the selection of each of the privileges, benefits, grants, and loans included in the list.

(b) PREPARATION OF LIST.—(1) In preparing the list and report provided for in subsection (a), the Director shall take into consideration the following factors:

(A) the extent to which the threat of punishment deters drug use among persons addicted to drugs.

(B) the extent to which the threat of withholding Federal privileges, benefits, grants, and loans would be likely to deter individuals from using illicit drugs.

(C) the effect that withholding benefits would have on an individual's efforts to overcome drug dependence.

(D) whether differing State laws with regard to possession of marijuana would result in the uneven application of sanctions imposed by the Federal government.

(E) the potential results of such a program in areas with limited treatment and rehabilitation opportunities.

(F) the burden that should appropriately be placed on individuals applying for Federal privileges, benefits, grants, and loans to prove they have not been convicted of a drug offense.

(G) the means by which Federal and State agencies, courts, and law enforcement agencies will exchange and share the data and information necessary to implement and enforce the withholding of benefits, privileges, grants, and loans.

(2) The Director is authorized to conduct public hearings and such other activities as may be necessary to fulfill this charge.

Subtitle G—Restrictions on Passports for Violators of Controlled Substance Laws and Other Laws

SEC. 5351. RESTRICTIONS ON PASSPORTS FOR VIOLATORS OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE LAWS AND OTHER LAWS.

Title I of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2669 et seq.) is amended—

(1) by redesignating section 42 as section 43; and

(2) by inserting after section 41 the following:

"SEC. 42. RESTRICTIONS ON PASSPORTS FOR VIOLATORS OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE LAWS.

"(a) REVOCATION OF PASSPORTS.—Upon conviction for—

"(1) a violation of the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 951-970) punishable by imprisonment for more than 1 year;

"(2) a criminal violation of the Bank Secrecy Act (31 U.S.C. 5311-5324) punishable by imprisonment for more than 1 year; or

"(3) a criminal violation of the Money Laundering Control Act (18 U.S.C. 1956, 1957) and any criminal violation of provisions of title 31, United States Code, relating to money laundering, punishable by imprisonment for more than 1 year;

where the violator used a passport or otherwise crossed an international border in committing such violation, the Secretary of State shall revoke the violator's passport and other travel documents. Any person whose passport or other travel documents were revoked under this subsection, or any person convicted for any offense in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this section who does not possess a passport, shall not be eligible to receive a passport or other travel documents for 10 years. The period of revocation shall begin after the individual completes the period of incarceration, probation, or parole imposed for conviction of any offense in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3).

"(b) The Secretary of State is authorized to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.".

Subtitle H—Authorization of Appropriations for President's Media Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention

SEC. 5401. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR PRESIDENT'S MEDIA COMMISSION ON ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION.

There are hereby authorized to be appropriated for the President's Media Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention the following amounts:

(1) $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1989;

(2) $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1990; and

(3) $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1991.

TITLE VI—SENSE OF THE CONGRESS ON DRUG FUNDING

SEC. 6001. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS ON DRUG FUNDING.

It is the Sense of the Congress that—

(1) total authorizations in this Act and subsequent fiscal year 1989 appropriations shall provide that 60 percent of these incremental anti-drug funds shall be provided for drug prevention, treatment, and education programs and that 40 percent of the funds shall be provided for anti-drug law enforcement programs;

(2) the fiscal year 1989 appropriations for these authorizations shall include obligation limitations to the extent necessary to avoid triggering a sequester in fiscal year 1989;

(3) if obligational limitations in appropriations Acts become necessary, they shall have the net effect of providing 50 percent of the available fiscal year 1989 outlays for anti-drug law enforcement programs (up to the amount authorized in this Act) and 50 percent (or any authorized amounts remaining in this Act after all amounts for law enforcement have been appropriated) for drug prevention, treatment, and education programs;

(4) should obligational limitations in appropriations Acts be imposed for fiscal year 1989, subsequent obligations of remaining budget authority provided in this Act shall be made so as to ensure that, overall, 60 percent of the budget authority will be provided for drug prevention, treatment and education programs and 40 percent shall be provided for anti-drug law enforcement programs; and

(5) revenues from an Internal Revenue Service enforcement and collections initiative and increased receipts from additional United States Attorneys used to improve processing of forfeited assets through the assets forefeiture fund should be used to offset spending associated with this Act.

TITLE VII B—DEATH PENALTY IN CASE OF DRUG RELATED KILLINGS

SEC. 7001. DEATH PENALTY FOR DRUG-RELATED KILLINGS.

(a) ELEMENTS OF OFFENSE.—Section 408 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 848) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(2) by adding a new subsection (e) as follows:

"Death Penalty

"(e)(1) In addition to the other penalties set forth in this section—

"(a) Any person engaging in a continuing criminal enterprise, or anyone working in furtherance of a continuing criminal enterprise who intentionally, or with reckless indifference to human life, kills or participates substantially in the killing of any individual, shall be sentenced to any term of imprisonment, which shall not be less than 20 years, and which may be up to life imprisonment, or may be sentenced to death; and

"(b) Any person, during the commission of, in furtherance of, or while attempting to avoid apprehension, prosecution or service of a prison sentence for, a felony violation of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) who intentionally, or with reckless indifference to human life, kills or participates substantially in the killing of any federal, state, or local law enforcement officer engaged in, or on account of, the performance of such officer's official duties, shall be sentenced to any term of imprisonment, which shall not be less than 20 years, and which may be up to life imprisonment, or may be sentenced to death.

"(2) As used in paragraph (1)(b), a 'law enforcement officer' is a public servant authorized by law or by a Government agency or Congress to conduct or engage in the prevention, investigation, prosecution or adjudication of an offense, and includes those engaged in corrections, probation, or parole functions.".

(b) PROCEDURE APPLICABLE WITH RESPECT TO THE DEATH PENALTY.—Section 408 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 848) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"Hearing Required with Respect to the Death Penalty

"(g) A person shall be subjected to the penalty of death for any offense under this section only if a hearing is held in accordance with this section.

"Notice by the Government in Death Penalty Cases

"(h)(1) Whenever the Government intends to seek the death penalty for an offense under this section for which one of the sentences provided is death, the attorney for the Government, a reasonable time before trial or acceptance by the court of a plea of guilty, shall sign and file with the court, and serve upon the defendant, a notice—

"(A) that the Government in the event of conviction will seek the sentence of death; and

"(B) setting forth the aggravating factors enumerated in subsection (n) and any other aggravating factors which the Government will seek to prove as the basis for the death penalty.

"(2) The court may permit the attorney for the Government to amend this notice for good cause shown.

"Hearing Before Court or Jury

"(i)(1) When the attorney for the Government has filed a notice as required under subsection (h) and the defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), the judge who presided at the trial or before whom the guilty plea was entered, or any other judge if the judge who presided at the trial or before whom the guilty plea was entered is unavailable, shall conduct a separate sentencing hearing to determine the punishment to be imposed. The hearing shall be conducted—

"(A) before the jury which determined the defendant's guilt;

"(B) before a jury impaneled for the purpose of the hearing if—

"(i) the defendant was convicted upon a plea of guilty;

"(ii) the defendant was convicted after a trial before the court sitting without a jury;

"(iii) the jury which determined the defendant's guilt has been discharged for good cause; or

"(iv) after initial imposition of a sentence under this section, redetermination of the sentence under this section is necessary; or

"(C) before the court alone, upon the motion of the defendant and with the approval of the Government.

"(2) A jury impaneled pursuant to paragraph (i)(B) shall consist of 12 members, unless, at any time before the conclusion of the hearing, the parties stipulate with the approval of the court that it shall consist of any number less than 12.

"Proof of Aggravating and Mitigating Factors

"(j) Notwithstanding rule 32(c) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, when a defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), no presentence report shall be prepared. In the sentencing hearing, information may be presented as to any matter relevant to the sentence and shall include matters relating to any of the aggravating or mitigating factors set forth in subsections (m) and (n), or any other mitigating factor. Where information is presented relating to any of the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n), information may be presented relating to any other aggravating factor. Information presented may include the trial transcript and exhibits if the hearing is held before a jury or judge not present during the trial. Any other information relevant to such mitigating or aggravating factors may be presented by either the Government or the defendant, regardless of its admissibility under the rules governing admission of evidence at criminal trials, except that information may be excluded if its probative value is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice, confusion of the issues, or misleading the jury. The Government and the defendant shall be permitted to rebut any information received at the hearing and shall be given fair opportunity to present argument as to the adequacy of the information to establish the existence of any of the aggravating or mitigating factors and as to appropriateness in that case of imposing a sentence of death. The Government shall open the argument. The defendant shall be permitted to reply. The Government shall then be permitted to reply in rebuttal. The burden of establishing the existence of any aggravating factor is on the Government, and is not satisfied unless established beyond a reasonable doubt. The burden of establishing the existence of any mitigating factor is on the defendant, and is not satisfied unless established by a preponderance of the evidence.

"Return of Findings

"(k) The jury, or if there is no jury, the court, shall consider all the information received during the hearing. It shall return special findings identifying any aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n), found to exist. If one of the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n)(1) and another of the aggravating factors set forth in paragraphs (2) through (12) of subsection (n) is found to exist, a special finding identifying any other aggravating factor may be returned. A finding with respect to a mitigating factor may be made by one or more of the members of the jury, and any member of the jury who finds the existence of a mitigating factor may consider such a factor established for purposes of this subsection, regardless of the number of jurors who concur that the factor has been established. A finding with respect to any aggravating factor must be unanimous. If an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) is not found to exist or an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) is found to exist but no other aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n) is found to exist, the court shall impose a sentence, other than death, authorized by law. If an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) and one or more of the other aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n) are found to exist, the jury, or if there is no jury, the court, shall then consider whether the aggravating factor or factors found to exist sufficiently outweigh any mitigating factor or factors found to exist, or in the absence of mitigating factors, whether the aggravating factors are themselves sufficient to justify a sentence of death. Based upon this consideration, the jury by unanimous vote, or if there is no jury, the court, shall return a finding as to whether a sentence of death is justified.

"Imposition of Sentence

"(l) Upon a finding that a sentence of death is justified, the court shall sentence the defendant to death. Otherwise the court shall impose a sentence, other than death, authorized by law. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who is under 18 years of age at the time the crime was committed. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who, by reason of a mental disease or defect, is unable to understand his impending death or the reasons for it. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who is mentally retarded.

"Mitigating Factors

"(m) In determining whether a sentence of death is to be imposed on a defendant, the following mitigating factors shall be considered but are not exclusive:

"(1) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law was significantly impaired, but not so impaired as to constitute a defense to the charge.

"(2) The defendant was under unusual and substantial duress, although not such duress as constitutes a defense to the charge.

"(3) The defendant is punishable as a principal (as defined in section 2(a) of title 18 of the United States Code) in the offense, which was committed by another, but the defendant's participation was relatively minor, although not so minor as to constitute a defense to the charge.

"(4) The defendant could not reasonably have foreseen that his conduct in the course of the commission of murder, or other offense resulting in death for which the defendant was convicted, would cause, or would create a grave risk of causing, death to any person.

"Aggravating Factors for Homicide

"(n) If the defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), the following aggravating factors shall be considered but are not exclusive:

"(1) The defendant—

"(A) intentionally killed the victim;

"(B) intentionally inflicted serious bodily injury which resulted in the death of the victim;

"(C) intentionally engaged in conduct intending that the victim be killed or that lethal force be employed against the victim, which resulted in the death of the victim.

"(D) intentionally engaged in conduct which—

"(i) the defendant knew would create a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in the offense; and

"(ii) resulted in the death of the victim.

"(2) The defendant has been convicted of another Federal offense, or a State offense resulting in the death of a person, for which a sentence of life imprisonment or a sentence of death was authorized by statute.

"(3) The defendant has previously been convicted of two or more State or Federal offenses punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year, committed on different occasions, involving the infliction of, or attempted infliction of, serious bodily injury upon another person.

"(4) The defendant has previously been convicted of two or more State or Federal offenses punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year, committed on different occasions, involving the distribution of a controlled substance.

"(5) In the commission of the offense or in escaping apprehension for a violation of subsection (e), the defendant knowingly created a grave risk of death to one or more persons in addition to the victims of the offense.

"(6) PROCUREMENT OF THE OFFENSE BY PAYMENT.—The defendant procured the commission of the offense by payment, or promise of payment, of anything of pecuniary value.

"(7) COMMISSION OF THE OFFENSE FOR PAYMENT.—The defendant committed the offense as consideration for the receipt, or in the expectation of the receipt, of anything of pecuniary value.

"(8) SUBSTANTIAL PLANNING AND PREMEDITATION.—The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation.

"(9) VULNERABILITY OF VICTIM.—The victim was particularly vulnerable due to old age, youth, or infirmity.

"(10) The defendant had previously been convicted of violating a provision of the Controlled Substances Act for which a sentence of five or more years may be imposed or was engaged in a continuing criminal enterprise.

"(11) The violation of this chapter in relation to which the conduct described in subsection (e) occurred was a violation of section 405.

"(12) The defendant committed the offense in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner in that it involved torture or serious physical abuse to the victim.

"Right of the Defendant to Justice Without Discrimination

"(o)(1) In any hearing held before a jury under this section, the court shall instruct the jury that in its consideration of whether the sentence of death is justified it shall not consider the race, color, national origin, or sex of the defendant or the victim, and that the jury is not to recommend a sentence of death unless it has concluded that it would recommend a sentence of death for the crime in question no matter what race the defendant, or the victim, may be. The jury shall return to the court a certificate signed by each juror that consideration of race, color, national origin, creed, or sex of the defendant or the victim was not involved in reaching his or her individual decision, and that the individual juror would have made the same recommendation regarding a sentence for the crime in question no matter what race the defendant, or the victim, may be.

"(2) Not later than one year from the date of enactment of this section, the Comptroller General shall conduct a study of the various procedures used by the several States for determining whether or not to impose the death penalty in particular cases, and shall report to the Congress on whether or not any or all of the various procedures create a significant risk that the race of a defendant, or the race of a victim against whom a crime was committed, influence the likelihood that defendants in those States will be sentenced to death. In conducting the study required by this paragraph, the General Accounting Office shall—

"(A) use ordinary methods of statistical analysis, including methods comparable to those ruled admissible by the courts in race discrimination cases under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964;

"(B) study only crimes occurring after January 1, 1976; and

"(C) determine what, if any, other factors, including any relation between any aggravating or mitigating factors and the race of the victim or the defendant, may account for any evidence that the race of the defendant, or the race of the victim, influences the likelihood that defendants will be sentenced to death. In addition, the General Accounting Office shall examine separately and include in the report, death penalty cases involving crimes similar to those covered under this section.

"Sentencing in Capital Cases in Which Death Penalty is not Sought or Imposed

"(p) If a person is convicted for an offense under subsection (e) and the court does not impose the penalty of death, the court may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

"Counsel for Financially Unable Defendants

"(q)(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, in every criminal action in which a defendant is charged with a crime may be punishable by death, a defendant who is or becomes financially unable to obtain adequate representation or investigative, expert or other reasonably necessary services at any time either—

"(A) before judgment; or

"(B) after the entry of a judgment imposing a sentence of death but before the execution of that judgment; shall be entitled to the appointment of one or more attorneys and the furnishing of such other services in accordance with paragraphs (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6).

"(2) If the appointment is made before judgment, at least one attorney so appointed must have been admitted to practice in the court in which the prosecution is to be tried for not less than five years, and must have had not less than three years experience in the actual trial of felony prosecutions in that court.

"(3) If the appointment is made after judgment, at least one attorney so appointed must have been admitted to practice in the court of appeals for not less than five years, and must have had no less than three years experience in the handling of appeals in that court in felony cases.

"(4) Unless replaced by similarly qualified counsel upon the attorney's own motion or upon motion of the defendant, each attorney so appointed shall represent the defendant throughout every subsequent stage of available judicial proceedings, including pretrial proceedings, trial, sentencing, motions for new trial, appeals, applications, for writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court of the United States, and all available post-conviction process together with applications for stays of execution and other appropriate motions and procedures, and shall also represent the defendant in such competent proceedings and proceedings for executive or other clemency as may be available to the defendant.

"(5) Upon a finding in ex parte proceedings that investigative, expert or other services are reasonably necessary for the representation of the defendant, whether in connection with issues relating to guilt or sentence, the court shall authorize the defendant's attorney to obtain such services on behalf of the defendant and shall order the payment of fees and expenses therefore, under paragraph (6). Upon a finding that timely procurement of such services could not practicably await prior authorization, the court may authorize the provision of and payment for such services nunc pro tunc.

"(6) Notwithstanding the rates and maximum limits generally applicable to criminal cases and any other provision of law to the contrary, the court shall fix the compensation to be paid to attorneys appointed under this subsection and the fees and expenses to be paid for investigative, expert, and other reasonably necessary services authorized under paragraph (5), at such rates or amounts as the court determines to be appropriate in order to provide such defendant with representation by counsel and other services as nearly equivalent as possible to those available to defendants who are financially able to obtain such representation and other services for their defense and appeal, and for the prosecution of any of the proceedings described in paragraph (4).

"Refusal to Participate by State and Federal Correctional Employees

"(r) No employee of any State department of corrections or the Federal Bureau of Prisons and no employee providing services to that department or bureau under contract shall be required, as a condition of that employment, or contractual obligation to be in attendance at or to participate in any execution carried out under this section if such participation is contrary to the moral or religious convictions of the employee. For purposes of this subsection, the term 'participation in executions' includes personal preparation of the condemned individual and the apparatus used for execution and supervision of the activities of other personnel in carrying out such activities.".

Passed the Senate June 10 (legislative day, June 8), 1988.

SEC. 1002. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) the problem of illegal drug activity and drug abuse falls across the entire spectrum of Federal activities, both domestically and internationally;

(2) any effective solution to the drug problem of the Nation must involve a comprehensive approach from all levels of government, combining reduction of the demand for drugs through education, research and treatment with rigorous law enforcement and supply reduction initiatives;

(3) an effective solution to the drug problem of the Nation is severely hampered by the large number of Federal agencies with overlapping jurisdiction and fragmented authority which does not encourage effective strategic planning, coordination and cooperation without centralized leadership;

(4) the magnitude and scope of the problem requires a Director of National Drug Control Policy with the responsibility for the coordination and direction of all Federal efforts by the numerous agencies; and

(5) such a director must have sufficient authority and responsibility to lead Federal agencies in making management, policy, and budgetary decisions with respect to all Federal agencies so that a unified and efficient effort can be made to substantially reduce the illegal drug problem.

SEC. 1003. PURPOSES.

(3) make such official accountable to the Congress and the people of the United States for the effectiveness of the national drug control strategy; and

SEC. 1052. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) organized criminal activity contributes significantly to the importation, distribution, and sale of illegal and dangerous drugs;

(2) trends in drug trafficking patterns necessitate a response that gives appropriate weight to—

(A) the prosecution of drug-related crimes; and

(B) the forfeiture and seizure of assets and other civil remedies used to strike at the inherent strength of the drug networks and organized crime groups;

(3) law enforcement components of the Department of Justice should give high priority to the enforcement of civil sanctions against drug networks and organized crime groups; and

(4) the structure of the Department of Justice Criminal Division needs to be reviewed in order to determine the most effective structure to address such drug-related problems.

SEC. 1053. CIVIL ENFORCEMENT REPORT.

(a) Report.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this title, the Director of National Drug Control Policy (the Director) in consultation with the Attorney General, shall report to the Congress on the necessity to establish a new division or make other organizational changes within the Department of Justice in order to promote better civil and criminal law enforcement. (a) Duty of Attorney General.—The Attorney General shall insure that each component of the Department of Justice having criminal law enforcement responsibilities with respect to the prosecution of organized crime and controlled substances violations, including each United States Attorney's Office, attaches a high priority to the enforcement of civil statutes creating ancillary sanctions and remedies for such violations, such as civil penalties and actions, forfeitures, injunctions and restraining orders, and collection of fines.

(b) Duty of Associate Attorney General.—The Associate Attorney General shall be responsible for implementing the policy set forth in this subsection.

(c) Authorization of Appropriations.—(1) There are authorized to be appropriated $2,175,000 for salaries and expenses to the Department of Justice General Legal Activities Account and $2,175,000 for salaries and expenses for United States Attorneys for fiscal year 1989.

(2) Any appropriation of funds authorized under paragraph (1) shall be—

(A) in addition to any appropriations requested by the President in the 1989 fiscal year budget submitted by the President to the Congress on February 18, 1988, or provided in regular appropriations Acts or continuing resolutions for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1989; and

(B) used to increase the number of field attorneys and related support staff over such personnel levels employed at the Department of Justice on September 30, 1988.

(3) Any increase in full-time equivalent positions described under paragraph (2)(B) shall be exclusively used for asset forfeiture and civil enforcement and be assigned to appropriate field offices of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section and the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Forces.

(b) Task Force Agents.—To the greatest extent feasible, those agents assigned to the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force program shall be dedicated exclusively to and located with the Task Forces so that the Task Force personnel may develop increased expertise and function as a working unit. Those agents assigned to the Task Forces from the various participating agencies shall be given credit for the work of the Task Force, regardless of the statutory authority used to prosecute Task Force cases or the criminal or civil nature of the investigation.

(c) Expenses of Task Forces.—(1) Beginning in fiscal year 1990, the Attorney General in his budget shall submit a separate appropriations request for expenses relating to all Federal agencies participating in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Forces. Such appropriations shall be made to the Department of Justice's Interagency Law Enforcement Appropriation Account for the Attorney General to make reimbursements to the involved agencies as necessary.

Within ten days after receiving the defendant's notice, but in no event less than twenty days before the trial, the attorney for the Government shall serve upon the defendant or the defendant's attorney a written response which shall admit or deny that the defendant exercised the public authority identified in the defendant's notice.

SEC. 2758. JURISDICTION OVER FEDERAL LANDS.

(a) Findings.—Congress finds that—

(1) the States have law enforcement jurisdiction over approximately 97 percent of federally owned property in the United States;

(2) the States lack jurisdiction to enforce the law on the remaining 3 percent of federally owned property which is subject to exclusive or partial Federal jurisdiction;

(3) to a large extent, exclusive Federal jurisdiction of these parcels results from historical accident, and is unrelated to the use of which the property is being put;

(4) the parcels of federally owned property comprising this 3 percent often are scattered in checkerboard fashion almost at random throughout Federal properties intermixed almost at random with parcels subject to concurrent Federal and State jurisdiction and parcels subject solely to State jurisdiction;

(5) as a result, effective criminal law enforcement on these properties is seriously hampered;

(6) many problems resulting from the jurisdictional maze can be resolved by conferring upon the States criminal law enforcement jurisdiction over the 3 percent of properties currently under executive or partial Federal jurisdiction;

(7) for a very limited number of installations or portions of them, extension of such criminal law enforcement jurisdiction to the States may be inappropriate due to unique military concerns which require exclusive Federal jurisdiction to ensure the proper performance of military functions, missions, and tasks on those properties;

(8) the need for exclusive jurisdiction may change from time to time as the purposes to which installations are dedicated or other conditions change;

(9) on federally owned property over which both the United States and a State have law enforcement jurisdiction, enforcement emergencies arise periodically, albeit infrequently, which involve immediate danger of death or serious physical injury, e.g., a prison riot or hostage situation; and

(10) such law enforcement emergencies require decisive and coordinated action which is best achieved when a single level of government has clear-cut control over the law enforcement response.

(b) In General.—Chapter 1 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding after section 19 the following new section:

"§ 20. State criminal laws applicable on Federal enclaves

"(a) The criminal laws of a State and political subdivision thereof shall apply respectively on all Federal property within the State and subdivision thereof. For this purpose the States and their political subdivisions are hereby given jurisdiction to enforce such laws subject to the absolute discretion of a commanding officer of a military installation or the chief Federal operating officer of a nuclear facility of the Department of Energy to restrict the entry of persons, including law enforcement officers of a State or political subdivision thereof, upon the installation or facility.

"(b) The Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of a military department, or (with respect to a facility of the Coast Guard when it is operating as a Service in the Department of Transportation) the Secretary of Transportation, may from time to time exempt from the operation of subsection (a), by regulation, those military installations or parts thereof that are subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States and with respect to which exclusive Federal criminal jurisdiction is required by the peculiar nature of the military operation conducted thereon or the need to avoid undue interference with the purpose of any activity or project at the installation.

"(c)(1) Nothing in this section shall, in any way, limit the existing jurisdiction of the United States over any property described herein or confer on a State or political subdivision thereof any power to interfere with Federal functions or any additional power to tax not expressly provided for elsewhere in Federal law. The laws of States and political subdivisions thereof made applicable on Federal property by this section shall not apply to the United States or any instrumentality thereof or to officials or employees of the United States while acting in the reasonable belief that they are acting in the performance of their duties or scope of employment.

"(2) Nothing in this section shall impose upon a State or political subdivision thereof any obligation to exercise jurisdiction over the Federal property described herein or create any right or defense for any person charged with a criminal offense in any Federal or State court.

"(d) When the criminal activity occurring on federally owned land involves immediate danger of death or serious physical injury to a person, and both the United States and a State have criminal law enforcement jurisdiction over that property, the Attorney General or the Deputy Attorney General of the United States is authorized to declare, based on his judgment, a law enforcement emergency, thereby suspending the exercise of police powers by the State over the particular criminal activity, except that the State may exercise those police powers necessary to respond to specific requests for assistance made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A declaration under this subsection shall be subject to the following conditions:

"(1) The authority to issue such a declaration may not be delegated.

"(2) The declaration is to be in writing and is to specify with particularity the criminal activity which constitutes the law enforcement emergency.

"(3) Unless sooner withdrawn, the declaration remains in effect for a period of 72 hours. In the event the particular criminal activity continues, the declaration may be renewed by the Attorney General or Deputy Attorney General, in increments not to exceed 72 hours, until the criminal activity has been brought to a conclusion.

"(4) The declaration of a law enforcement emergency does not deprive the State of its jurisdiction to prosecute persons responsible for the criminal activity which was the subject of such declaration.

"(e) For purposes of this section—

"(1) the term 'Federal property' includes all real property owned, leased, or used by the United States that is included within the part of the 'special maritime territorial jurisdiction of the United States' described in paragraph (3) of section 7 of this title, but does not include the Indian country as defined in section 1151 of this title;

"(2) the term 'criminal law' includes regulations which provide for a criminal sanction of for both a criminal and administrative sanction; and

"(3) the term 'military installation' means any property described in paragraph (1) that is under the administrative control of—

"(A) the Department of Defense or one or more military departments of the Department of Defense; or

"(B) the Coast Guard.".

"(b) Where the transfer to the United States of a person in custody for the purposes of giving testimony is provided for by treaty or convention, by this section, or both, that person shall be returned to the foreign country from which he is transferred. In no event shall the return of such person require any request for extradition or extradition proceedings, or proceedings under the immigration laws.

"(c) Where there is a treaty or convention between the United States and the foreign country in which the witness is being held in custody which provides for the transfer, custody and return of such witnesses, the terms and conditions of that treaty shall apply. Where there is no such treaty or convention, the Attorney General may exercise the authority described in paragraph (a) if both the foreign country and the witness give their consent.".

(b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for chapter 223 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new item:

(c) Study.—The Commission shall study the methods and rates of compensation, including salary, overtime pay, retirement policies, and other benefits of law enforcement officers in all Federal agencies, as well as the methods and rates of compensation of State and local law enforcement officers in a representative number of areas where Federal law enforcement officers are assigned, in order to determine—

(1) the differences which exist among Federal agencies with regard to the methods and rates of compensation for law enforcement officers;

(2) the rational basis, if any, for such differences, considering the nature of the responsibilities of the law enforcement officers in each agency; the qualifications and training required to perform such responsibilities; the degree of personal risk to which the law enforcement officers in each agency are normally exposed in the performance of their duties; and such other factors as the Commission deems relevant in evaluating the differences in compensation among the various agencies;

(3) the extent to which inequities appear to exist among Federal agencies with regard to the methods and rates of compensation of law enforcement officers, based on consideration of the factors mentioned in paragraph (2) of this subsection;

(4) the feasibility of devising a uniform system of overtime compensation for law enforcement officers in all or most Federal agencies, with due regard for both the special needs of law enforcement officers and the relative cost effectiveness to the Government of such a system compared to those currently in use;

(5) how the salaries paid to Federal law enforcement officers compare to those of State and local officers in the same geographical area, especially those in "high cost-of-living" areas;

(6) the impact of the rates of compensation paid by various Federal agencies on the lifestyle, morale, and general well-being of law enforcement officers, including their ability to subsist;

(7) the recruiting and retention problems experienced by Federal agencies due to: inequities in compensation among such agencies; the differences between rates of compensation paid to Federal law enforcement officers and State and local officers in the same geographical areas; and other factors related to compensation;

(8) the extent to which Federal legislation and administrative regulations may be necessary or appropriate to rectify inequities among Federal agencies in the methods and rates of compensation for law enforcement officers; to address the lack of uniformity among agencies with regard to overtime pay; to provide premiums or special rates of pay for Federal law enforcement officers in high cost-of-living areas; to ensure that the levels of compensation paid to Federal law enforcement officers will be competitive with those paid to State and local officers in the same geographical areas; and to address such other matters related to the determinations made under this subsection as the Commission deems appropriate in the interests of enhancing the ability of Federal agencies to recruit and retain the most qualified and capable law enforcement officers; and

(9) the average retirement age of the Federal agencies and the retirement and benefits policies of Federal agencies.

(d) Powers of the Commission—The Commission shall have the power to—

(1) utilize, with their consent, the services, equipment, personnel, information, and facilities of other Federal, State, local, and private agencies and instrumentalities with or without reimbursement therefor;

(2) enter into and perform, without regard to section 3324 of title 31, United States Code, such contracts, leases, cooperative agreements, and other transactions as may be necessary in the conduct of the functions of the Commission, with any public agency, or with any person, firm, association, corporation, educational institution, or nonprofit organization;

(2) Each Commissioner may utilize the resources, services, equipment, personnel, information, and facilities of his or her Federal agency or, in the case of the Commissioners who are Members of Congress, his or her congressional office, as may be necessary in the conduct of the Commissioner's respective functions as a member of the Commission.

(f) Quorum.—A simple majority of the Commissioners then serving shall constitute a quorum for the conduct of business by the Commission, and the Commission may exercise its powers and fulfill its duties by the vote of a simple majority of the Commissioners present.

(g) Meeting.—The Chairman of the Commission shall call and preside at meetings of the Commission, but the Chairman may delegate to any other Commissioner the authority to preside at meetings of the Commission.

(h) Report and Dissolution of Commission.—(1) Within 6 months following the date of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall prepare and deliver to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, a written report setting forth—

"(2) of the total funds remaining after the allocation under paragraph (1), there shall be allocated to each State an amount which bears the same ratio to the amount of remaining funds described in this paragraph as the population of such State bears to the population of all the States.

"(b) Of the amounts set aside for this section, not less than 10 percent shall be used to fund street sales enforcement programs of which the primary goal is to strengthen urban enforcement and prosecution efforts targeted at street level narcotics activity in areas of high-intensity drug trafficking. The Director may, in his discretion, waive this requirement at the request of a State, where the imposition of this requirement is clearly inappropriate given the States documented needs as specified in their statewide strategy. Such projects may include—

"(2) the training and utilization of uniformed personnel and the certification of uniformed officers as narcotics experts for testifying in court;

"(c)(1) Each State which received funds under subsection (a) of this section in a fiscal year shall distribute among units of local government, or combinations of units of local government, in such State for the purposes specified in section 501(b) that portion of such funds which bears the same ratio to the aggregate amount of such funds as the amount of funds expended by all units of local government for criminal justice in the preceding fiscal year bears to the aggregate amount of funds expended by the State and all units of local government in such State for criminal justice in such preceding fiscal year.

"(2) Each State which receives funds under subsection (a) shall provide to units of local government or combinations thereof with a minimum population of 500,000, or if the largest such unit or combination has less than 500,000, to the largest such unit or combination thereof in the State, of the pass through formula, a percentage of such funds which is not less than a portion of such funds which bears the same ratio to the amount of funds expended by such local government or combination thereof to the aggregate amount of funds expended by all units of local government for criminal justice in the preceding fiscal year.

"(3) Any funds not distributed to units of local government under paragraph (1) shall be available for expenditure by the State involved.

"(4) For purposes of determining the distribution of funds under paragraph (1), the most accurate and complete data available for the fiscal year involved shall be used. If data for such fiscal year are not available, then the most accurate and complete data available for the most recent fiscal year preceding such fiscal year shall be used.

"(d) No funds allocated to a State under subsection (a) or received by a State for distribution under subsections (b) and (c) may be distributed by the Director or by the State involved for any program other than a program contained in an approved application.

"(e) If the Director determines, on the basis of information available during any fiscal year, that a portion of the funds allocated to a State for that fiscal year will not be required or that a State will be unable to qualify or receive funds under section 502, or that a State chooses not to participate in the program established under such section, then such portion shall be awarded by the Director to urban, rural, and suburban units of local government or combinations thereof within such State giving priority to those jurisdictions with greatest need.

"(f) Any funds allocated under subsection (a) or (e) that are not distributed under this section shall be available for obligation under subpart 2.

"(3) coordinating the distribution of funds provided under this part with State agencies receiving Federal funds for drug abuse education, prevention, treatment, and research activities and programs.

"(b) An office or agency performing other functions within the executive branch of a State may be designated to carry out the functions specified in subsection (a).

"SEC. 508. DISTRIBUTION OF GRANTS TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

"(a) Each application made by a local unit of government, or a combination of units of local government, to a State for funds under this subchapter shall be deemed approved, in whole or in part, by the State not later than 45 days after first received unless the State informs the applicant in writing of specific reasons for disapproval. The State shall not finally disapprove any application submitted to the State without first affording the applicant reasonable notice and opportunity for reconsideration.

"(b)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), each State which receives funds under section 506 in a fiscal year shall make such funds available to local units of government, or combinations of units of local government, whose application has been submitted to, approved and awarded by the State, within 90-days after the Bureau has approved the State application and has made funds available to such State. If the State does not distribute such funds to any local unit of government, or combination thereof, within that time, the State shall return such funds to the Director who shall directly award such funds to the local unit of government, or combination thereof. The Director shall have the authority to waive the 90-day requirement in this section upon a finding that the State cannot satisfy that requirement consistent with State statutes.

"(2) Each State which receives funds under section 506 in a fiscal year shall make such funds available to local units of government, or combinations thereof, with a minimum population of 500,000, or if the largest such unit or combination has less than 500,000, to the largest such unit or combination thereof in the State, whose application has been submitted to, approved, and awarded by the State, within 45 days after the Bureau has approved the State application and has made funds available to such State. If the State does not distribute such funds within that time, the State shall return such funds to the Director who shall directly award such funds to the local unit of government, or combination thereof. At the conclusion of the hearing the United States district court shall make a finding as to whether petitioner is a aggravated alien felon and thus subject to deportation pursuant to this section. If petitioner is adjudicated a aggravated alien felon, the court shall issue a final order of deportation.

"(5) Petitioner may appeal a final order of deportation, issued pursuant to this section, to the appropriate United States court of appeals, and such deportation order shall be stayed pending the decision and order of the court of appeals. The United States may appeal the vacatur of an order of deportation, issued pursuant to this section, to the appropriate United States court of appeals.

SEC. 4502. INTERNATIONAL CURRENCY TRANSACTION REPORTING.

(a) FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.—

(1) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(A) the success of cash transaction and money laundering control statutes in the United States has been significant; and

(B) the United States should play a leadership role in the development of an international system of a similar kind.

(2) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this section to urge the United States Government, to the maximum extent practicable, to seek the active cooperation of other countries in the enforcement of these statutes, since only a truly multilateral approach can be effective in eliminating bank haven loopholes through which money launderers can escape.

(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF INTERNATIONAL AGENCY.—The Congress urges the Secretary of the Treasury to negotiate with finance ministers of foreign countries to establish an international currency control agency to—

(1) serve as a central source of information and database for international drug enforcement agencies;

(2) collect and analyze currency transaction reports filed by member countries; and

(3) encourage the adoption, by member countries, of uniform cash transaction and money laundering statutes.

(c) MAINTENANCE OF DOMESTIC EFFORT.—While establishing a multilateral agency will be the most effective method of combatting money laundering, the United States must itself continue to do everything it can to curb international money laundering.

SEC. 4503. POLICY TOWARD AN INTERNATIONAL DRUG CONFERENCE.

It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the President should convene as soon as possible an international conference to be known as the "International Conference on Combatting Illegal Drug Production, Trafficking, and Use in the Western Hemisphere";

(2) such conference should involve the heads of state, the highest-ranking law enforcement officers, and other appropriate officials from every government in the Western Hemisphere that is willing to combat the drug trade, and whose cooperation the President determines is essential to that goal; and

(3) such conference should focus exclusively on combatting the drug trade and, in particular, should emphasize enhancing cooperative efforts among the governments of the Western Hemisphere to—

(A) substantially reduce the production, cultivation, and processing of illicit drugs;

(B) eliminate the transshipment of such drugs through countries in the Western Hemisphere;

(C) curb the demand for and use of such drugs in every country in the Western Hemisphere;

(D) combat the problems of drug-related corruption and drug money laundering; and

(E) share intelligence information, extradite drug traffickers, and take other steps necessary to improve law enforcement efforts against the drug trade.

SEC. 4504. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS CALLING FOR NEGOTIATIONS TO CREATE AN INTERNATIONAL DRUG FORCE.

(a) REVIEW.—The President shall conduct a review of United States narcotics raw material policy to determine—

(1) the current and reserve international needs for opium-derived pharmaceutical and chemical products, and the relative capabilities for meeting those needs through the opium gum process and the concentrated poppy straw method of production;

(2) whether the United States should continue to rely on a single foreign country for all its licit opium gum;

(3) whether it should be United States policy to encourage all countries which produce licit opium to use the concentrated poppy straw method of production; and

(4) what options are available, consistent with treaties to which the United States is a party, to reduce United States reliance on licit opium gum from foreign sources.

The results of this review shall be reported to the Congress six months after the date of enactment of this Act.

(b) RESTRICTION ON PRESIDENTIAL CERTIFICATION.—Section 481(h)(2)(A) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 is amended—

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following new clause:

"(iii) The President may make a certification under clause (i)(I) with respect to any major drug producing or drug-transit country which is also a producer of licit narcotics raw materials, such as opium or coca, only if the President determines that such country has taken steps to prevent significant diversion of its licit cultivation and production into the illicit market, maintains production and stockpiles at levels no higher than those consistent with licit market demand, and prevents illicit cultivation and production.".

Subtitle E—Transportation Industry Alcohol and Controlled Substances Testing Program

SEC. 5251. TRANSPORTATION INDUSTRY ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES TESTING PROGRAM.

(a) Findings.—The Congress finds that—

(1) alcohol and drug abuse poses significant dangers to the safety and welfare of the Nation;

(2) millions of the Nation's citizens utilize transportation by aircraft, railroads, trucks, and buses, and depend on the operators of aircraft, railroads, trucks, and buses to perform in a safe and responsible manner;

(3) the greatest efforts must be expended to eliminate the abuse of alcohol and use of illegal drugs, whether on duty or off duty, by those individuals who are involved in the operation of aircraft, railroads, trucks, and buses;

(4) the use of alcohol and illegal drugs has been demonstrated to affect significantly the performance of individuals, and has been proven to have been a critical factor in transportation accidents;

(5) adequate safeguards can be implemented to ensure that testing for abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs is performed in a manner which protects an individual's right of privacy, ensures that no individual is harassed by being treated differently from other individuals, and ensures that no individual's reputation or career development is unduly threatened or harmed; and

(6) rehabilitation is a critical component of any testing program for abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs, and should be made available to individuals, as appropriate.

(b) Testing Program.—(1) Title VI of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 App. U.S.C. 1421 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Alcohol and Controlled Substances Testing

"TESTING PROGRAM

"Sec. 613. (a)(1) The Administrator shall, in the interest of aviation safety, prescribe regulations within twelve months after the date of enactment of this section. Such regulations shall establish a program which requires air carriers and foreign air carriers to conduct pre-employment, periodic recurring, random and post-accident testing of airmen, crewmembers, airport security screening contract personnel, and other air carrier employees responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), and testing of such individuals upon a reasonable suspicion that they have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

"(2) The Administrator shall establish a program applicable to employees of the Federal Aviation Administration whose duties include responsibility for safety-sensitive functions. Such program shall provide for pre-employment, periodic recurring, random and post-accident testing, and testing of such individuals upon a reasonable suspicion that they have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

"(3) In prescribing regulations under the programs required by this subsection, the Administrator shall require, as the Administrator considers appropriate, the suspension or revocation of any certificate issued to such an individual, or the disqualification or dismissal of any such individual, in accordance with the provisions of this section, in any instance where a test conducted and confirmed under this section indicates that such individual has used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance.

"PROHIBITION ON SERVICE

"(b)(1) No person may use, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance after the date of enactment of this section and serve as an airman, crewmember, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employee responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employee of the Federal Aviation Administration with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions.

"(2) No individual who is determined to have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance after the date of enactment of this section shall serve as an airman, crewmember, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employee responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employee of the Federal Aviation Administration with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions unless such individual has completed a program of rehabilitation described in subsection (c) of this section.

"(3) Any such individual determined by the Administrator to have used, without lawful authorization, alcohol or a controlled substance after the date of enactment of this section who (A) refuses to undertake a rehabilitation program described in subsection (c), (B) fails to complete such a rehabilitation program, (C) has previously undertaken or completed such a rehabilitation program, or (D) has been determined by the Administrator to have served as an airman, crewmember, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employee responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employee of the Federal Aviation Administration with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions while impaired by or under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance, shall not be permitted to perform the duties relating to air transportation which such individual performed prior to the date of such determination.

"PROGRAM FOR REHABILITATION

"(c)(1) Each air carrier and foreign air carrier shall establish and maintain a rehabilitation program which at a minimum provides for the identification and opportunity for treatment of employees referred to in subsection (b) of this section in need of assistance in resolving problems with the use, without lawful authorization, of alcohol or controlled substances. Each air carrier and foreign air carrier is encouraged to make such program available to all of its employees other than employees referred to in subsection (b) of this section. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude any air carrier or foreign air carrier from establishing a program under this subsection in cooperation with any other air carrier or foreign air carrier.

"(2) The Administrator shall establish and maintain a rehabilitation program which at a minimum provides for the identification and opportunity for treatment of those employees of the Federal Aviation Administration whose duties include responsibility for safety-sensitive functions who are in need of assistance in resolving problems with the use of alcohol or controlled substances.

"PROCEDURES

"(d) In establishing the program required under subsection (a) of this section, the Administrator shall develop requirements which shall—

"(A) establish comprehensive standards for all aspects of laboratory drug testing and laboratory procedures to be applied in carrying out this section, including standards which require the use of the best available technology for ensuring the full reliability and accuracy of drug tests and strict procedures governing the chain of custody of specimens collected for drug testing;

"(B) specify the drugs for which individuals may be tested; and

"(C) establish appropriate standards and procedures for periodic review of laboratories and criteria for certification and revocation of certification of laboratories to perform drug testing in carrying out this section;

"(4) require that all laboratories involved in the testing of any individual under this section shall have the capability and facility, at such laboratory, of performing screening and confirmation tests;

"(5) provide for the confidentiality of test results and medical information (other than information relating to alcohol or a controlled substance) of employees, except that the provisions of this paragraph shall not preclude the use of test results for the orderly imposition of appropriate sanctions under this section; and

"(6) ensure that employees are selected for tests by nondiscriminatory and impartial methods, so that no employee is harassed by being treated differently from other employees in similar circumstances.

"EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS AND REGULATIONS

"(e)(1) No State or local government shall adopt or put into effect any law, rule, regulation, ordinance, standard or order that is inconsistent with the regulations promulgated under this section, except that the regulations promulgated under this section shall not be construed to preempt provisions of State criminal law which impose sanctions for reckless conduct leading to actual loss of life, injury or damage to property, whether the provisions apply specifically to employees of an air carrier or foreign air carrier, or to the general public.

"(2) Nothing in this section shall preclude the Administrator from adopting or continuing in effect other regulations intended to protect persons or property on the ground or in the air from the hazards to safety associated with the potential use of alcohol or controlled substances by airmen, crewmembers, airport security screening contract personnel, air carrier employees responsible for safety-sensitive functions (as determined by the Administrator), or employees of the Federal Aviation Administration) with responsibility for safety-sensitive functions.

"(3) In prescribing regulations under this section, the Administrator shall only establish requirements applicable to foreign air carriers that are consistent with the international obligations of the United States, and the Administrator shall take into consideration any applicable laws and regulations of foreign countries. The Secretary of State and the Secretary of Transportation, jointly, shall call on the member countries of the International Civil Aviation Organization to strengthen and enforce existing standards to prohibit the use, without lawful authorization, of a controlled substance by crew members in international civil aviation.

"(3) a criminal violation of the Money Laundering Control Act (18 U.S.C. 1956, 1957) and any criminal violation of provisions of title 31, United States Code, relating to money laundering, punishable by imprisonment for more than 1 year;

where the violator used a passport or otherwise crossed an international border in committing such violation, the Secretary of State shall revoke the violator's passport and other travel documents. Any person whose passport or other travel documents were revoked under this subsection, or any person convicted for any offense in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this section who does not possess a passport, shall not be eligible to receive a passport or other travel documents for 10 years. The period of revocation shall begin after the individual completes the period of incarceration, probation, or parole imposed for conviction of any offense in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3).

"(b) The Secretary of State is authorized to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.".

TITLE VI—SENSE OF THE CONGRESS ON DRUG FUNDING

SEC. 6001. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS ON DRUG FUNDING.

It is the Sense of the Congress that—

(1) total authorizations in this Act and subsequent fiscal year 1989 appropriations shall provide that 60 percent of these incremental anti-drug funds shall be provided for drug prevention, treatment, and education programs and that 40 percent of the funds shall be provided for anti-drug law enforcement programs;

(2) the fiscal year 1989 appropriations for these authorizations shall include obligation

(4) should obligational limitations in appropriations Acts be imposed for fiscal year 1989, subsequent obligations of remaining budget authority provided in this Act shall be made so as to ensure that, overall, 60 percent of the budget authority will be provided for drug prevention, treatment and education programs and 40 percent shall be provided for anti-drug law enforcement programs; and

TITLE VII A—DEATH PENALTY IN CASE OF DRUG RELATED KILLINGS

SEC. 7001. DEATH PENALTY FOR DRUG-RELATED KILLINGS.

(a) ELEMENTS OF OFFENSE.—Section 408 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 848) is amended—

(1) by redesigning subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(2) by adding a new subsection (e) as follows:

"Death Penalty

"(e)(1) In addition to the other penalties set forth in this section—

"(a) Any person engaging in a continuing criminal enterprise, or anyone working in furtherance of a continuing criminal enterprise who intentionally, or with reckless indifference to human life, kills or participates substantially in the killing of any individual, shall be sentenced to any term of imprisonment, which shall not be less than 20 years, and which may be up to life imprisonment, or may be sentenced to death; and

"(b) Any person, during the commission of, in furtherance of, or while attempting to avoid apprehension, prosecution or service of a prison sentence for, a felony violation of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) who intentionally, or with reckless indifference to human life, kills or participates substantially in the killing of any federal, state, or local law enforcement officer engaged in, or on account of, the performance of such officer's official duties, shall be sentenced to any term of imprisonment, which shall not be less than 20 years, and which may be up to life imprisonment, or may be sentenced to death.

"(2) As used in paragraph (1)(b), a 'law enforcement officer' is a public servant authorized by law or by a Government agency or Congress to conduct or engage in the prevention, investigation, prosecution or adjudication of an offense, and includes those engaged in corrections, probation, or parole functions.".

(b) PROCEDURE APPLICABLE WITH RESPECT TO THE DEATH PENALTY.—Section 408 of the Controlled Substances (21 U.S.C. 848) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"Hearing Required with Respect to the Death Penalty

"(g) A person shall be subjected to the penalty of death for any offense under this section only if a hearing is held in accordance with this section.

"Notice by the Government in Death Penalty Cases

"(h)(1) Whenever the Government intends to seek the death penalty for an offense under this section for which one of the sentences provided is death, the attorney for the Government, a reasonable time before trial or acceptance by the court of a plea of guilty, shall sign and file with the court, and serve upon the defendant, a notice—

"(A) that the Government in the event of conviction will seek the sentence of death; and

"(B) setting forth the aggravating factors enumerated in subsection (n) and any other aggravating factors which the Government will seek to prove as the basis for the death penalty.

"(2) The court may permit the attorney for the Government to amend this notice for good cause shown.

"Hearing Before Court or Jury

"(i)(1) When the attorney for the Government has filed a notice as required under subsection (h) and the defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), the judge who presided at the trial or before whom the guilty plea was entered, or any other judge if the judge who presided at the trial or before whom the guilty plea was entered is unavailable, shall conduct a separate sentencing hearing to determine the punishment to be imposed. The hearing shall be conducted—

"(A) before the jury which determined the defendant's guilt;

"(B) before a jury impaneled for the purpose of the hearing if—

"(i) the defendant was convicted upon a plea of guilty;

"(ii) the defendant was convicted after a trial before the court sitting without a jury;

"(iii) the jury which determined the defendant's guilt has been discharged for good cause; or

"(iv) after initial imposition of a sentence under this section, redetermination of the sentence under this section is necessary; or

"(C) before the court alone, upon the motion of the defendant and with the approval of the Government.

"(2) A jury impaneled pursuant to paragraph (i)(B) shall consist of 12 members, unless, at any time before the conclusion of the hearing, the parties stipulate with the approval of the court that it shall consist of any number less than 12.

"Proof of Aggravating and Mitigating Factors

"(j) Notwithstanding rule 32(c) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, when a defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), no presentence report shall be prepared. In the sentencing hearing, information may be presented as to any matter relevant to the sentence and shall include matters relating to any of the aggravating or mitigating factors set forth in subsections (m) and (n), or any other mitigating factor. Where information is presented relating to any of the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n), information may be presented relating to any other aggravating factor. Information presented may include the trial transcript and exhibits if the hearing is held before a jury or judge not present during the trial. Any other information relevant to such mitigating or aggravating factors may be presented by either the Government or the defendant, regardless of its admissibility under the rules governing admission of evidence at criminal trials, except that information may be excluded if its probative value is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice, confusion of the issues, or misleading the jury. The Government and the defendant shall be permitted to rebut any information received at the hearing and shall be given fair opportunity to present argument as to the adequacy of the information to establish the existence of any of the aggravating or mitigating factors and as to appropriateness in that case of imposing a sentence of death. The Government shall open the argument. The defendant shall be permitted to reply. The Government shall then be permitted to reply in rebuttal. The burden of establishing the existence of any aggravating factor is on the Government, and is not satisfied unless established beyond a reasonable doubt. The burden of establishing the existence of any mitigating factor is on the defendant, and is not satisfied unless established by a preponderance of the evidence.

"Return of Findings

"(k) The jury, or if there is no jury, the court, shall consider all the information received during the hearing. It shall return special findings identifying any aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n), found to exist. If one of the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n)(1) and another of the aggravating factors set forth in paragraphs (2) through (12) of subsection (n) is found to exist, a special finding identifying any other aggravating factor may be returned. A finding with respect to a mitigating factor may be made by one or more of the members of the jury, and any member of the jury who finds the existence of a mitigating factor may consider such a factor established for purposes of this subsection, regardless of the number of jurors who concur that the factor has been established. A finding with respect to any aggravating factor must be unanimous. If an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) is not found to exist or an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) is found to exist but no other aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n) is found to exist, the court shall impose a sentence, other than death, authorized by law. If an aggravating factor set forth in subsection (n)(1) and one or more of the other aggravating factors set forth in subsection (n) are found to exist, the jury, or if there is no jury, the court, shall then consider whether the aggravating factor or factors found to exist sufficiently outweigh any mitigating factor or factors found to exist, or in the absence of mitigating factors, whether the aggravating factors are themselves sufficient to justify a sentence of death. Based upon this consideration, the jury by unanimous vote, or if there is no jury, the court, shall return a finding as to whether a sentence of death is justified.

"Imposition of Sentence

"(l) Upon a finding that a sentence of death is justified, the court shall sentence the defendant to death. Otherwise the court shall impose a sentence, other than death, authorized by law. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who is under 18 years of age at the time the crime was committed. A sentence of death shall not be carried out upon a person who, by reason of a mental disease or defect, is unable to understand his impending death or the reasons for it.

"Mitigating Factors

"(m) In determining whether a sentence of death is to be imposed on a defendant, the following mitigating factors shall be considered but are not exclusive:

"(1) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law was significantly impaired, but not so impaired as to constitute a defense to the charge.

"(2) The defendant was under unusual and substantial duress, although not such duress as constitutes a defense to the charge.

"(3) The defendant is punishable as a principal (as defined in section 2(a) of title 18 of the United States Code) in the offense, which was committed by another, but the defendant's participation was relatively minor, although not so minor as to constitute a defense to the charge.

"(4) The defendant could not reasonably have foreseen that his conduct in the course of the commission of murder, or other offense resulting in death for which the defendant was convicted, would cause, or would create a grave risk of causing, death to any person.

"Aggravating Factors for Homicide

"(n) If the defendant is found guilty of or pleads guilty to an offense under subsection (e), the following aggravating factors shall be considered but are not exclusive:

"(1) The defendant—

"(A) intentionally killed the victim;

"(B) intentionally inflicted serious bodily injury which resulted in the death of the victim;

"(C) intentionally engaged in conduct intending that the victim be killed or that lethal force be employed against the victim, which resulted in the death of the victim.

"(D) intentionally engaged in conduct which—

"(i) the defendant knew would create a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in the offense; and

"(ii) resulted in the death of the victim.

"(2) The defendant has been convicted of another Federal offense, or a State offense resulting in the death of a person, for which a sentence of life imprisonment or a sentence of death was authorized by statute.

"(3) The defendant has previously been convicted of two or more State or Federal offenses punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year, committed on different occasions, involving the infliction of, or attempted infliction of, serious bodily injury upon another person.

"(4) The defendant has previously been convicted of two or more State or Federal offenses punishable by a term of imprisonment of more than one year, committed on different occasions, involving the distribution of a controlled substance.

"(5) In the commission of the offense or in escaping apprehension for a violation of subsection (e), the defendant knowingly created a grave risk of death to one or more persons in addition to the victims of the offense.

"(6) PROCUREMENT OF THE OFFENSE BY PAYMENT.—The defendant procured the commission of the offense by payment, or promise of payment, of anything of pecuniary value.

"(7) COMMISSION OF THE OFFENSE FOR PAYMENT.—The defendant committed the offense as consideration for the receipt, or in the expectation of the receipt, of anything of pecuniary value.

"(8) SUBSTANTIAL PLANNING AND PREMEDITATION.—The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation.

"(9) VULNERABILITY OF VICTIM.—The victim was particularly vulnerable due to old age, youth, or infirmity.

"(10) The defendant had previously been convicted of violating a provision of the Controlled Substances Act for which a sentence of five or more years may be imposed or was engaged in a continuing criminal enterprise.

"(11) The violation of this chapter in relation to which the conduct described in subsection (e) occurred was a violation of section 405.

"(12) The defendant committed the offense in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner in that it involved torture or serious physical abuse to the victim.

"Right of the Defendant to Justice Without Discrimination

"(o)(1) In any hearing held before a jury under this section, the court shall instruct the jury that in its consideration of whether the sentence of death is justified it shall not consider the race, color, national origin, or sex of the defendant or the victim, and that the jury is not to recommend a sentence of death unless it has concluded that it would recommend a sentence of death for the crime in question no matter what race the defendant, or the victim, may be. The jury shall return to the court a certificate signed by each juror that consideration of race, color, national origin, creed, or sex of the defendant or the victim was not involved in reaching his or her individual decision, and that the individual juror would have made the same recommendation regarding a sentence for the crime in question no matter what race the defendant, or the victim, may be.

"(2) Not later than one year from the date of enactment of this section, the Comptroller General shall conduct a study of the various procedures used by the several States for determining whether or not to impose the death penalty in particular cases, and shall report to the Congress on whether or not any or all of the various procedures create a significant risk that the race of a defendant, or the race of a victim against whom a crime was committed, influence the likelihood that defendants in those States will be sentenced to death. In conducting the study required by this paragraph, the General Accounting Office shall—

"(A) use ordinary methods of statistical analysis, including methods comparable to those ruled admissible by the courts in race discrimination cases under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964;

"(B) study only crimes occurring after January 1, 1976; and

"(C) determine what, if any, other factors, including any relation between any aggravating or mitigating factors and the race of the victim or the defendant, may account for any evidence that the race of the defendant, or the race of the victim, influences the likelihood that defendants will be sentenced to death. In addition, the General Accounting Office shall examine separately and include in the report, death penalty cases involving crimes similar to those covered under this section.

"SENTENCING IN CAPITAL CASES IN WHICH DEATH PENALTY IS NOT SOUGHT OR IMPOSED

"(p) If a person is convicted for an offense under subsection (e) and the court does not impose the penalty of death, the court may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

"APPEAL IN CAPITAL CASES

"(q)(1) In any case in which the sentence of death is imposed under this section, the sentence of death shall be subject to review by the court of appeals upon appeal by the defendant. Notice of appeal must be filed within the time prescribed for appeal of judgment in section 2107 of title 28 of the United States Code. An appeal under this section may be consolidated with an appeal of the judgment of conviction. Such review shall have priority over all other cases.

"(2) On review of the sentence, the court of appeals shall consider the record, the evidence submitted during the trial, the information submitted during the sentencing hearing, the procedures employed in the sentencing hearing, and the special findings returned under this section.

"(3) The court shall affirm the sentence if it determines that—

"(A) the sentence of death was not imposed under the influence of passion, prejudice, or any other arbitrary factor; and

"(B) the information supports the special finding of the existence of every aggravating factor upon which the sentence was based, together with or the failure to find any mitigating factors as set forth or allowed in this section.

In all other cases the court shall remand the case for reconsideration under this section. The court of appeals shall state in writing the reasons for its disposition of the review of the sentence.

"(4) In any post-conviction proceeding under section 2254 or 2255 of title 28, United States Code seeking to vacate or set aside a death sentence, the court shall appoint counsel to represent any defendant who is or becomes financially unable to obtain adequate representation.

"REFUSAL TO PARTICIPATE BY STATE AND FEDERAL CORRECTIONAL EMPLOYEES

"(r) No employee of any State department of corrections or the Federal Bureau of Prisons and no employee providing services to that department or bureau under contract shall be required, as a condition of that employment, or contractual obligation to be in attendance at or to participate in any execution carried out under this section if such participation is contrary to the moral or religious convictions of the employee. For purposes of this subsection, the term 'participation in executions' includes personal preparation of the condemned individual and the apparatus used for execution and supervision of the activities of other personnel in carrying out such activities.".

Passed the Senate June 10 (legislative day, June 8), 1988.

"Hearing Required with Respect to the Death Penalty

"(g) A person shall be subjected to the penalty of death for any offense under this section only if a hearing is held in accordance with this section.

"Notice by the Government in Death Penalty Cases

"(h)(1) Whenever the Government intends to seek the death penalty for an offense under this section for which one of the sentences provided is death, the attorney for the Government, a reasonable time before trial or acceptance by the court of a plea of guilty, shall sign and file with the court, and serve upon the defendant, a notice—
